PRACTICALLY NO HOPE FOR MINERS

Two Hundred and Forty-seven Believed to Be Dead.

FRANTIC WOMEN INTERFERE

Twenty-three Living, Twenty-four Dead Are Taken from Shaft—Rest Are Four Thousand Feet Underground.

Dawson, N. M., Oct. 23.—Two hundred and forty-seven miners are believed to be dead tonight beneath tons of fallen earth, timber, coal and rock in the cuts and rooms of Mine No. 2, of the Stag Canon Fuel Company here.

Hundreds of miners working in shifts of 15 each are slowly forcing their way through the rooms and entries, fighting against dangers of gas and a fire which started in an adjoining mine and which threatens to reach the space in which the entombed men were trapped.

Only 23 men have been taken from the mine alive. At 8:15 o'clock tonight the first miner to be rescued alive within 12 hours was taken from the main entry. He was found unconscious not far from the place where a mule, earlier in the evening had been found alive.

Twenty-four dead bodies, 23 rescued make the total of the day's work of recovery. The finding of the live mule in the late today encouraged officials in charge of the rescue work to hope that some live miners perhaps still are entombed in a room located more than 4,000 feet from an entrance.

Henry P. McShane, son of Mrs. E. P. McShaw, of New York City, widow of a former heavy stockholder in the mine, is among the known dead. McShaw, who was but 19 years old, had come to the mine to learn mining from practical experience.

J. C. Roberts, chief of the United States Mine Rescue Bureau in this district, is in charge of the rescue work. Mr. Roberts said it was impossible to tell what caused the explosion, but that it was of such violence as to cause him to lose hope for the rescue alive of any more of the entombed men.

Great Fans Useless.

In the mine at the time of the explosion was 284 miners and that the death list will reach so great a figure is attributed to the fact that the great fans which kept the air circulating with the mine were rendered useless by the explosion.

Some of the rescue parties tonight declared their belief that a party of the entombed miners had reached a room and had sealed it in time to keep the gas from overcoming them.

Dr. S. P. Morris, representative of this district of the American Red Cross Society, reached here at noon and at once made preparations to relieve the families of victims.

Director General Ernest P. Bicknell, of the Red Cross in Washington, wired Governor McDonald to draw on the society for $1,000 with which to alleviate the suffering of miners' families here but Governor McDonald replied that the mine officials had given him assurance that the destitute would be provided for and that the company would defray expenses.

Food orders at the company's store for an indefinite time have been issued to the families of the entombed miners.

The mine was supposed to have been a model one and that such a disaster within it has been considered impossible. Only two days before the explosion State Mine Inspector Biddow had examined the property and pronounced it in excellent condition.

Heard Explosion.

General Manager T. H. O'Brien, who was in the office near Mine No. 2 at the time of the explosion, at once summoned the men from three other mines by means of mine siren and put them to work digging in the main entry and the man-way, both of which were blocked by tons of fallen rock and timber. O'Brien with other officials hastened to the airshaft, which is equipped with a ladder and steps designed to be used as a means of escape in such emergencies. There he found the air unbearable and knew the great fans had stopped.

With oxygen helmets he and his followers went into Mine No. 5 which is connected with Mine No. 2 by a tunnel, believing they could connect with the laterals of the wrecked mine but they found the passage blocked. Communication was established with nearby mines and all available assistance was obtained.

The report of the explosion attracted practically the entire population of the town to the mine and women fought frantically to get to vantage points from which they could observe the slow progress of the rescuers. Soon they began to interfere with the work and the entries were roped off.

BLANKET INDICTMENT.

Harry Thaw and Four Others Charged With Conspiracy.

New York, Oct. 23.—A blanket indictment charging Harry K. Thaw and four others with conspiracy in connection with his escape from the Mattewan State hospital for the criminal insane in August, late today was returned by the grand jury here.

It will be used as a weapon by William Travers Jerome in his efforts to extradite Thaw from New Hampshire.

The others indicted were former Assemblyman Richard Butler, Michael O'Keefe, "Gentleman Roger" Thompson, and Eugene Duffy, alleged to have been Thaw's companions in the automobile in which he escaped. These are the same men for whom warrants were issued in Dutchess county after Thaw's flight.

"SEAMAN'S SERVITUDE BILL"

After the Amendments Offered by Senator LaFollette Were Adopted the Bill Was Passed by the Senate.

Washington, Oct. 23.—The LaFollette substitute for the "seaman's servitude bill" amended so that it will not affect the treaty relations of the United States until the President has been given an opportunity to readjust them, today passed the Senate, at the end of a debate that was characterized by unusual proceedings.

In the end the debate became an eulogy of Andrew Feruseth, president of the Seaman's Union, lauded as the man chiefly responsible for the passage of the bill. Mr. Feruseth, who had sat in a Senate gallery throughout the debate, was declared by Senator LaFollettte, Republican, and Senator Williams, Democrat, to have worked in Washington for many years, "at a seaman's pay" to get legislation through Congress improving the working conditions of his fellow sailors.

Senator Fletcher, chairman of the sub-committee that had charge of the preparation of the seaman's bill, declared the measure as passed by the Senate today would accomplish three important shipping reforms.

"The giving of greater freedom to seamen, the promotion of greater safety for passengers and crews at sea and the equalizing of wage costs in operating vessels in foreign and domestic trade."

The LaFollette substitute differed in many respects from the original bill which passed both Houses of Congress last Winter but which did not meet with the approval of President Taft. Its chief provisions would require improved working quarters and working conditions on ships; increase the reforms for safety appliances and efficiency of sailors; release sailors from some of the present stringent regulations that compel them to remain with ships when in foreign ports, and would direct the abrogation of any treaties that prohibit the enforcement of the provisions against foreign ships coming to American ports.

Efforts by Senator Burton and Senator Bacon to amend the bill today failed.

Senator LaFollette closed the debate on the measure with an attack on E. T. Chamberlain, United States Commissioner of Navigation, who, he said, ought to be removed. He declared Mr. Chamberlain has held office since President Cleveland's administration by "trimming and turning and twisting" but that all of his reports showed that his recommendations "fit into the interests of the ship owners." Senator LaFollette also charged that Congress and the legislative department of the government had for years "shown a subserviency to the shipping interests."

MRS. EATON IS TO TELL LIFE'S STORY

MAN OF DUAL PERSONALITY

No Friction Between Defendant and Husband, Up to His Death—Witnesses Testify to Intemperance of Eaton in Navy.

Plymouth, Mass., Oct. 23.—Rear Admiral J. G. Eaton, whose widow, Mrs. Jennie May Eaton, is on trial here, charged with his murder, today was painted in the opening address of the defense as a "drug fiend and a man of dual personality, a veritable Dr. Jekyl and Mr. Hyde."

Attorney Francis Geogan, who made the opening argument, said it would be shown that Admiral Eaton was addicted to the use of liquor and drugs to such an extent that he endangered his vessel and the lives of men under him when in the navy.

He attributed the death of the Admiral to poison self-administered. The poison, he said, was obtained from a Boston physician, who supplied the Admiral in all with 4,600 tablets as a medicine.

Mr. Geogan announced that Mrs. Eaton, the defendant, would take the stand and tell the story of her life. The movements of the accused widow during the week of the Admiral's death were described in detail by the defendant's lawyer.

"We will show you there was no friction between Mrs. Eaton and her husband, right up to the time of his illness," said Mr. Geogan. "There was no misunderstanding."

Heritage of Debts.

Mr. Geogan said it would be shown that the Admiral left Mrs. Eaton nothing but a heritage of debts, and that she could have no motive for desiring his death.

On the other hand, he said, she had, as a motive for keeping him alive, the fact that an income of $4,500 a year, representing the Admiral's retired pay ceased on his death. The defendant, the attorney added, would not hide behind a cloak of insanity, nor ask for special privileges on acocunt of her sex.

Dr. F. Fremont Fish, of Washington, D. C., the first witness, testified at considerable length regarding the Admiral's habits of intoxication during

Church Violates Its Constitution

Kansas City, Oct. 23.—That the National Council of Congregational Churches yesterday violated the provisions of its constitution in naming Rev. Charles R. Brown, dean of Yale Divinity School, moderator, and H. M. Beardsley, of Kansas City, assistant moderator, today was charged by Judge John H. Perry, of Southport, Conn., in an address before the commission of 19 of the council at a public meeting. The commission is framing a new constitution for the council containing many radical changes.

Judge Perry was urging that the present constitution, providing that a moderator must be elected from the voting members present at the National Council sessions, be eliminated.

"Every one is happy," said he, "at the selection of Moderator Brown but under the constitution his election was illegal. Mr. Brown was not present when he was elected and if the technicality were pressed it might cause unpleasantness. Of course, his election will not be questioned. The election of Mr. Beardsley, too, was not regular under the constitution, as he is not a voting member."

Judge Epapsroditus Peck, of Bristol, Conn., told the commission there was no doubt as to its acting illegally in assuming to make regulations for the various missionary societies of the church, which are separately incorporated institutions. The commission assured Judge Peck it had the consent of the bodies involved in making the regulations.

This statement was borne out in the meeting of the Home Missionary Society when the director of that society reported in favor of merging its society with other bodies of the church doing similar work.

The commission of 19 appointed to draw a new constitution containing progressive changes, including a statement of doctrine, has recommended that the church's missionary bodies be assembled under the guidance of the National Council. While the amalgamation cannot be accomplished for several years, the National Council has suggested the first step looking to such a union be made at once by permitting the National Council to name the majority members of the governing boards of each society thus giving control of these societies into the hands of the National Council.

Rev. Samuel H. Woodrow, pastor of Pilgrim Congregational church, St. Louis, tonight addressed the delegates deploring the decadence of the rural church.

Rev. Hubert C. Herring, of New York City, general secretary of the General Home Society, pleaded for the establishment of a $1,000,000 fund to be used to purchase sites and providing for the expansion of the growing city churches.

ALLIES COMMIT MANY ATROCITIES

REPORT TO BE PUBLISHED

International Carnegie Commission at Their Searching Inquiry Just Ended Find That Rotten Conditions Prevailed.

Paris, Oct. 23.—Troops of all the warring Balkan States committed gross atrocities, according to the evidence gathered by the International Carnegie Commission in its searching inquiry just ended.

The conclusions of the commission are to be published in book form with illustrations and fac similies of a number of the documents on which the report is based. The text will be issued as a whole for which the members of the commission take responsibility.

One of the noteworthy tasks was the minute examination and verification of the famous packet of letters from Greek soldiers captured by the Bulgarians containing horrible descriptions of how Greek soldiers "avenged themselves" on Bulgarians who fell into their hands.

The commission believes that it has established the authenticity of these letters. Other documents testify that the Greeks occasionally made use of the forbidden dumdum bullet and also show the misdeeds of Bulgarians and other belligerents. The inquiry did not extend to the Rumanians.

The commission collected material from every available source. After having seen the officials, the commission went to the scenes of alleged atrocities and interrogated at length every class of witnesses from soldiers who took part in the battles to women and children, who were spectators and victims of the horrors. Some of the most important evidence taken by the commissioners came from children.

Bulgarians Worst.

While it was found that the Bulgarians had committed the greatest faults, the soldiery of other nations also were guilty of many hideous acts. The commissioners appear to be of the opinion that had other belligerents been roused to such a pitch of fury as were the Bulgarians they would not have acted much better.

In Bulgaria the fullest inquiry was invited and every possible facility for investigation was given to the commission. The Bulgarians in their campaign against the Turks behaved in an exemplary manner. It would appear that the Bulgarians who had borne the brunt of the war against the Turks were exhausted at its end and thought only of immediately going to their homes. They had been promised this. When they were told that their allies had acted in bad faith and had betrayed them the Bulgarian fury burst forth uncontrollably.

Turkey also gave the commission every facility for inquiry. The Greeks did likewise, though a certain amount of opposition was encountered in that country.

Servia did its utmost to prevent an unhampered investigation and no inquiries were permitted except in the presence of a Servian military attache. This attitude reduced the commission's work in Servia practically to nothing and produced a bad impression on the commission.

Baron D'Estournelles de Constant, of the commission, says that "the report will not dwell at great length on the distressing story of misdeeds in the Balkans which after all do not prove so much against the belligerents as against the war itself."

The report will fully develop the economic aspects of the war and also will have a good deal to say about the wonderful possibilities of development which lie before the Balkan people.

The members of the commission were Baron D'Estournelles de Constant and Justin Godard, a member of the Chamber of Deputies for France; Professor Wilhelm Paszkowski, of the University of Berlin ofr Germany; Prof. Samuel Train Dutton, of Columbia University, for America; H. N. Brailsford for Great Britain; Herr Redlich, imperial Counsellor for Austria, and M. Miloukoff, the liberal leader of the Duma, for Russia.

CENTRAL BANK IS BEING ADVOCATED

One Institution to Dominate Financial System as Substitute for Reserve

HUNDRED MILLION CAPITAL

Expert Suggests That People Own the Stock in This Bank as Security While It Will be Under Supervision of Govt.

Washington, Oct. 23.—A government controlled and operated central bank to dominate the financial system of the country today entered the legislative arena as a rival of the administration regional reserve currency plan.

Frank A. Vanderlip, president of the National City Bank, of New York, explained the new plan to the Senate banking and Currency committee, who, he said, had expressed approval of such a plan.

Under his proposal the government, through a board of seven members appointed for terms of 14 years and receiving salaries of $15,000 or $17,500 a year, would establish a huge bank with $100,000,000 capital which would control financial conditions by powers conferred on it to issue money, to re-discount commercial paper for banks and to concentrate the country's gold reserve.

Mr. Vanderlip suggested that if possible the stock of this institution be held by the public as an investment security. The stock would have no voice or vote in the bank's control, which under all circumstances would rest entirely with the government. Mr. Vanderlip pointed out that his bill differed from the administration plan in that it absolutely eliminated the banks from participation in the administration of a system which would control the issue of currency. The Vanderlip plan differed from the so-called Aldrich plan in that the latter provided for a central and subsidiary banks owned and controlled by the member banks themselves.

Senators Favor Plan.

Senators Bristow, Reed, O'Gorman and Hitchcock, of the committee tonight expressed themselves as in favor of the principle embraced in the Vanderlip plan.

"This is the plan which Senator Hitchcock and I have favored since consideration of currency reform began," said Senator Reed.

The Vanderlip plan undoubtedly

Georgetown Lost To Carolina Techs

(Special Star Telegram.)

Raleigh, N. C., Oct. 23.—A. & M. defeated Georgetown University this afternoon in the best game of football seen on the local gridiron in years, by the score of 12 to 0. The Hilltoppers were completely outclassed in every stage of the game, Costello being their only player who was able to make any gains, and even he could not make appreciable gains, often being thrown for a loss on attempted end runs, and nearly always downed in his tracks by the Red and White ends on punts.

The game started with Georgetown kicking off, A. & M. fumbling and Georgetown recovering on Techs' 30-yard line. Georgetown fumbled and A. & M. recovered. After an exchange of punts, the Red and White carried the ball to the Hilltoppers' 8-yard line, the last play being on forward pass, Sullivan to Ferderber for 15 yards, after which Georgetown held A. & M. for downs, and punted out, and the quarter ended with Georgetown in possession of the ball in the middle of the field. In the second quarter all the playing was in Georgetown's territory, this period being featured by an end run by Tenney for 15 yards, and a 15-yard gain for Georgetown on a forward pass. The half ended with A. & M. in possession of the ball 18 yards from the Hilltoppers' goal.

The second half started with A. & M. kicking off. After two first downs were made, Costello punted, but after an exchange of punts, Hurtt blocked the ball and recovered it on Georgetown's 15-yard line, the quarter ending with A. & M. in possession of the ball on the Hilltoppers' four-yard line.

On the second play in the fourth quarter, Tenney carried the ball over, the ball being missed on the kickout.

The other touchdown was made in the same quarter, Tenney making the touchdown and Hurtt missing goal. The features of the game were the playing of Riddick, Tenney, Sullivan and VanBroklin for A. & M., and the holding of the Red and White line.

THANKSGIVING PROCLAIMED

Following the Custom of Years President Wilson Designated Thursday, November the 27th as Day of Thanks.

Washington, Oct. 23.—President Wilson today designated Thursday, November 27th, as Thanksgiving Day, and issued the following—his first Thanksgiving proclamation:

"The season is at hand in which it has been our long respected custom as a people, to turn in praise and thanksgiving to Almighty God for His manifold mercies and blessings to us as a nation. The year that has just passed has been marked in a peculiar degree by manifestation of His gracious and beneficent providence. We have not only had peace throughout our own borders and with the nations of the world, but that peace has been brightened by constantly multiplying evidences of genuine friendship, of mutual sympathy and understanding and of the happy operation of many elevating influences, both of ideal and of practice.

"The nation not only has been prosperous but has proved its capacity to take calm counsel amidst the rapid movement of affairs and deal with its own life in a spirit of candor, righteousness and comity. We have seen the practical completion of a great work at the isthmus of Panama, which not only exemplifies the Nation's abundant resources to accomplish what it will and the distinguished skill and capacity of its public servants, but also promises the beginning of a new age, of new contacts, new neighborhoods, new sympathies, new bonds, and new achievements of co-operation and peace.

"'Righteousness exalteth a nation' and 'peace on earth, good will towards men,' furnish the only foundations upon which can be built the lasting achievements of the human spirit. The year has brought us the satisfaction of work well done and fresh visions of our duty, which will make the work of the future better still.

"Now, therefore, I, Woodrow Wilson, President of the United States of America, do hereby designate Thursday, the 27th of November next, as a day of thanksgiving and prayer, and invite the people throughout the land to cease from their wonted occupations and in their several homes and places of worship render thanks to Almighty God.

"In witness whereof, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the seal of the United States to be affixed.

"Done at the City of Washington, this 23rd day of October, in the year of Our Lord, one thousand, nine hundred and thirteen, and of the Independence of the United States of America, the one hundred and thirty-eighth.

MAY INCREASE RATES.

Hearing of New England Rate Cases Close.

Boston, Mass., Oct. 23.—The investigation of railroad rates in New England which has been conducted by the Inter-State Commerce Commission at various times during the past year, today was closed after Howard Elliott chairman of the New York, New Haven & Hartford directorate, and Morris McDonald, president of the Boston & Maine, had been heard.

Charles A. Prouty, of the Inter-State Commerce Commission, who sat with the commissioners of Maine, New Hampshire, Vermont and Massachusetts, said after the hearing that without doubt the Boston & Maine railroad would be permitted to increase its rates. But before coming to any conclusion in the matter, he said, the full Inter-State Commission next month would come to Boston and confer with the representatives of the road and the shippers in an effort to decide just what was best to do.

SOMBRE SILENCE OVER SITUATION

Atmosphere of Gravity Envelopes Washington, Regarding Crisis in Mexico.

WILSON REFUSES TO TALK

It Was Admitted in Administration Circles That International Matters Were Responsible for Prolonged Congress.

Washington, Oct. 23.—An atmosphere of gravity and sombre silence tonight enveloped the Mexican situation here not only with regard to the dissatisfaction of the United States at Great Britain's attitude but as to the critical state of affairs in Mexico City as the election of October 26th draws near.

There were no tangible developments but an incident of the day which official Washington interpreted ominously, was President Wilson's flat refusal to discuss Mexico or any phases of the problem, when he met the Washington correspondents in their usual semi-weekly conference.

The President always had discussed informally and unofficially matters of international consequence, giving the general status of affairs. Today he asked to be excused.

Secretary Bryan showed equal reticence. The conclusion generally drawn was that a crisis slowly was approaching; that the arrival of General Felix Diaz appeared to complicate internal affairs in Mexico, and that stern measures by the Washington government would not be surprising.

Congress Holds On.

For the first time during the talk of recess and adjournment of Congress, the Mexican situation was injected as a reason for keeping Congress in session and in administration circles it was admitted that it was not the currency problem alone which made it advisable for members to stay in Washington.

It became apparent in well-informed quarters that Great Britain's failure to repudiate the action of Sir Lionel Carden, British minister to Mexico, who presented his credentials immediately after Huerta proclaimed his dictatorship, had caused Washington officials to feel they no longer could depend on the help of England in solving the Mexican problem, and that henceforth the United States would go forward single handed, if necessary in a firm and aggressive policy.

Whether this will be revealed in a declaration by the United States of her intention, as "nearest neighbor" of Mexico, to take such steps as will compose the situation, has not yet materialized, but many officials believe the Washington government soon will assert itself in a manner that will be tantamount to a notice to Europe generally that interference in Mexico by foreign powers is not desired by this country.

The attitude of some of the administration officials hitherto strong advocates of a policy of moral suasion today was decided pessimistic and they reluctantly admitted that the United States government might take drastic steps.

Though officials do not discuss the British attitude in any way, persons close to the administration say the policy of Great Britain has created an embarrassing situation here with an ever-increasing tension. It is not likely that Ambassador Page and the British foreign office will discuss Mexico until after the elections of October 26th as Sir Edward Grey was reported as intimating that he would not bind the British government to any policy until after these elections.

Will Stand by Policy.

There is a confident feeling in official circles that whatever pronouncement President Wilson may make after the elections will be an emphatic reiteration that the United States will stand by its policy of dealing only with governments founded on law and order, and there is a likelihood he will go a step farther and assert an intention of seeing that constitutional government is maintained on this hemisphere despite any foreign influence.

The Washington administration considers that the Huerta government was toppling, that natural resentment was being manifested throughout Mexico after the arrest of the members of the Mexican Congress when at the critical moment the presentation by Sir Lionel Carden of his credentials, unrepudiated by Great Britain had the effect of morally supporting the Huerta regime.

Secretary Bryan's only comment on the Mexican situation was to the effect that representations had been made to pursuade the Federal authorities in Mexico to give the captured Maderos a fair trial. While General Felix Diaz is by no means regarded with favor by the administration here, it was apparent that the State Department that American officials would look with displeasure on any harm befalling him or any other candidate in the coming elections.

May Arrest Diaz.

Vera Cruz, Oct. 23.—General Felix Diaz, who yesterday arrived here on the steamer Corcovado and who, soon after landing went to the home of his mother-in-law, has remained there ever since. He has so far escaped arrest, but his friends believe if he appears in the streets he will be taken into custody by President Huerta's forces.

Detectives and police are watching the house and all plans formulated by General Diaz regarding a visit to the capital appear to have been abandoned.

It is considered probable that General Diaz tonight will take refuge in one of the consulates. He conferred for several hours today with intimate friends while others remained outside the house, eyeing the Huerta guards and talking resistance if the police or militia attempted to serve an order of arrest. Diaz insists he will not flee the country, and still is reluctant to believe the Huerta-Blanquet ticket has official sanction, although he admits the wide distribution of the announcement of what is commonly regarded as the official candidacy, renders other tickets impossible.

This was the anniversary of the recapture of Vera Cruz by the Federals, after the Diaz revolt when General Diaz and his entire staff were made prisoners.

Followers Disappointed.

Mexico City, Oct. 23.—Several hundred adherents of General Felix Diaz today waited two hours at the railroad station for the arrival of their leader whose coming from Vera Cruz had been announced in the morning newspapers. In spite of the advice given by the organ of the Diaz party that no demonstration be attempted the general's followers had prepared to give him an ovation.

It is now expected that General Diaz will arrive at the capital tomorrow, though his movements appear to be uncertain.

Fleet May Go.

Norfolk, Va., Oct. 23.—It is reported in naval circles tonight that the entire Atlantic fleet may be ordered to Mexico. A big portion of the fleet will leave Hampton Roads Saturday, ostensibly for the Mediterraneon sea.

A number of naval officers uncertain of the fleet's ultimate destination, telegraphed their wives not to take passage to Europe as planned. A number of officers' wives had planned to meet their husbands in Europe when the ships arrived.

It is reported tonight that when the fleet steams out of Hampton Roads on Saturday they will not proceed at a faster speed than eight knots. The department, it is said, wants to keep in touch with the ships until late into next week, in order to send them to Mexico if conditions there become serious enough for their presence.

ELECTION OF OFFICERS.

By Good Roads Association in Session at Asheville, N. C.

Asheville, N. C., Oct. 23.—The election of officers and the selection of Bristol, Va., as the next meeting place featured the last day of the fifth annual convention of the Southern Appalachian Good Roads' Association, which convened here Wednesday morning.

Dr. Joseph Hyde Pratt, of Chapel Hill, N. C., was re-elected president and treasurer of the organization, and H. B. Varner, of Lexington, N. C., succeeds himself as secretary. The eight Southern States comprising the organization were represented by Vice presidents and on the executive committee.

Discussion of engineering problems and laws of various States regarding condemnation proceedings for rights-of-way was engaged in at the afternoon session. Among those who delivered addresses were: Acting President E. K. Graham, of the University of North Carolina; A. G. Batchelder, chairman of the executive committee of the American Automobile Association; Charles P. Light, of the American Highway Association; Jesse Taylor, president of the Ohio Good Roads Federation, and Governor Locke Craig, of North Carolina.

PREDICTS BIG MAJORITY.

Secretary Bryan Declares Currency Bill Will Have Large Vote.

Camden, N. J., Oct. 23.—Secretary of State Bryan tonight predicted that the Owen-Glass Currency bill will pass the Senate with a larger majority than the Underwood tariff measure, in a speech here in the interest of the candidacy of Governor James F. Fielder. He told the audience that the National administration looked to New Jersey to give a vote of confidence in President Wilson.

In response to requests from the audience for an expression on the Mexican situation, the Secretary said that "good Democrats will trust the Wilson administration." He declined to comment further on the subject.

Referring to so-called monopolies and trusts, Mr. Bryan said President Wilson was "waiting to get his breath after his strenuous fight for tariff reform," which Mr. Bryan declared would come in the pending bill without an important feature of it changed or eliminated. Secretary Bryan tonight returned to Washington on a late train.

PINE ASSOCIATION.

Of North Carolina Meets at Charleston, South Carolina.

Charleston, S. C., Oct. 23.—The 24th semi-annual meeting of the North Carolina Pine Association today was held here, attended by lumber manufacturers from Virginia, North and South Carolina.

The business was carried through with dispatch and everything had been concluded in time for the luncheon at 2 o'clock, which wound up the meeting. The feature of the meeting was the address of President Horton Corwin, Jr., in which he told of the condition of the North Carolina pine industry and in which he gave statistics to prove the association was not a trust.

WORLD-WIDE PROTEST.

Being Made Against So-Called Ritual Murder Trial.

New York, Oct. 23.—Through the medium of Esperanto, a world-wide protest against the so-called ritual murder trial at Kiev has been launched.

The protest originated with the adoption of a resolution by 136 lawyers and public officials. A copy of this resolution, translated into Esperanto, has been mailed to every council of Esperantists in the world. Local Esperantists today embodied it in a petition to Senator Root, requesting him to place the protest before the Senate.

TO PALE, THIN PEOPLE.

Druggist J. Hicks Bunting Offers to Pay for Samose if it Does Not Make Thin People Fat.

Pale, thin people are simply suffering from want of nourishment. They may eat enough, but their food is not properly digested and does them no good.

Samose, the remarkable flesh-forming food, should be used by all who are pale, weak and thin. It mingles with the food and aids assimilation, so that when taken for a short time, Nature will soon assert her normal powers, and the food that is eaten will give strength and good flesh.

The woman who longs for rosy cheeks and the plumpness of beauty should use Samose. The man who wants to be strong and well and gain health and good flesh, will find his desires accomplished by Samose.

Such remarkable results have followed the use of Samose that Druggist J. Hicks Bunting is willing to pay for the treatment if it does not give the desired results. He makes this offer generally and wants all who are thin, weak and out of health to get a box of Samose from him on these terms.

CONDEMNS PHILIPPINE POLICY.

President Wilson Centured for His Treatment of Problem.

Mohonk Lake, N. Y., Oct. 23.—President Wilson's treatment of the Philippine problem was both approved and condemned tonight at the Lake Mohonk conference of Friends of the Indians and Other Dependent Peoples.

The speakers who condemned decidedly were in the majority. The views expressed, however, varied from advocacy of perpetual American control to belief in imediate independence.

The dominant opinion favored making the Filipinos independent, but not until a generation or more had been devoted to teaching them how to govern themselves. The most radical address proposed resigning the care of the islands to an international council and if the great powers refused to accept this trust, turning the Philippines over to the Japanese.

The most urgent advocate of immediate independence was Dr. John R. McDill, associate professor of surgery in the University of Chicago, who recently resigned a professor of surgery in the University of the Philippines at Manila.

Martin Egan, formerly editor of the Manila Times, said that he had expected to see less rancor and bitterness in the treatment of the Philippine question, because, through the results of the last election the critic had become the actor.

Arthur F. Odlin, of Arcadia, Fla., for six years judge of the Court of First Instance in the Philippines, expressed the hope that no step toward independence would be taken for at least 25 years.

The Right Rev. W. F. Oldham, Methodist bishop, of Southern Asia, a missionary diocese including the Philippines, expressed admiration for some of the Filipinos' qualities, but also counseled delay.

OUTBREAK OF LAWLESSNESS.

Strikers in Michigan Attack Deputies and Get Broken Heads.

Calumet, Mich., Oct. 23.—Outbreaks of lawlessness throughout the copper strike district today kept a large force of deputies and mounted troops busy.

Activities of the strikers in the Calumet district and at the Quincy mine were confined to attacks on deputies in which a number of strikers suffered broken heads and several officers were beaten or stabbed. Many arrests were made.

Houghton county continued quiet though in the Keweenaw district the situation still is serious. In Calumet this afternoon when 13 strikers, arrested as a result of disturbances this morning, were being taken into court for their preliminary hearing, strikers in the hallway attacked the deputies. The officers were compelled to beat their way through. A riot call was sent to military headquarters and a troop of cavalry responded.

At the Quincy mine 30 strikers entered the home of a non-Federation man and beat him badly, according to militia reports. A mounted squad saved the other members of the family from threatened violence. Strikers on parade attacked two deputies who held off the crowd with revolvers until the arrival of troops.

STRIKERS IN FIGHT.

Man Killed in Downtown Riot in Philadelphia.

Philadelphia, Oct. 23.—In a battle tonight between striking garment workers and operatives who declined to join their ranks in the center of the city, Abe Kaplan, 19 years old, was shot and killed and several others were injured.

When the workers left their places of employment tonight it was said they were attacked by more than 100 strikers. Many shots were fired, and bricks hurled and women in the mob used hat pins and pulled hair. A squad of police dispersed the mob and arrested two alleged strikers, one of whom is said to have fired the shot that killed Kaplan.

Philadelphia, Oct. 23.—A resolution was unanimously adopted at today's session of the convention of the Textile Workers of America demanding a uniform scale of wages for all textile workers throughout the country.

But one more day and the great 20th century production of minstrelsy by the noted Primrose and Dockstader Company will be with the people of Wilmington.

This superb attraction, coming under a big guarantee, will be at the Academy of Music twice tomorrow, matinee and night. The matinee will, no doubt, prove exceedingly popular, as a special scale of prices will prevail. It will be 25, 50 and 75 cents, children under 12 years of age being admitted for the first figure. For night the prices will go to $1.50. Tickets for both performances can now be obtained at J. Hicks Bunting's drug store.

The press continues to lavish praise on the attraction. Richmond stood united in praising the attraction. In addition to the Richmond Times-Dispatch, the Richmond News-Leader also gave high praise to the minstrels.

Great Baseball Pictures.

The clan of the sporting world certainly gathered at the cozy, handsome Grand yesterday, to witness the wonderful, expensive moving pictures of the recent world's baseball championship series between the Giants and the Athletics. The Grand played to tremendous audiences and the pictures were enthusiastically received and the enterprise of the theatre management highly praised. They were pronounced a big success, and especially was it noted that the figures were life-size, thus adding much pleasure to beholding them. All the favorites, "Matty," "Big Chief" Bender, "Home Run" Baker, Eddie Collins and the rest could be easily recognized. But this was not all of yesterday's bill at the Grand. The regular programme was also presented, thus affording a show of unusual size, as well as merit. This rule will be followed again today, when the baseball pictures will be offered once more as an extra feature, while the price of admission will not be advanced from 5 cents.

The regular programme today will be made up of such big and late films as Edison's "The Island of Perversity," the Vitagraph's "Pumps," and "Andy Gets Sandy a Job," each a big success.

The Popular Bijou.

The popular Bijou enjoyed one of the biggest days in its history yesterday. It had a great show ready for the great crowds that assembled; hence, the triumph of the day. It also has something else that is big and wonderful ready for today, making up one of the best bills ever presented in Wilmington. Today's swell offering will be headed by Kalem's "The Counterfeiter's Confederate," and it is a dramatic story with a powerful grip. Two foundlings are adopted and drift apart. One, when grown, is the adopted daughter of a banker and the other a member of a band of crooks. Their lives cross and the situation that follows is one of intense interest and is exceedingly thrilling.

There is yet another big dramatic masterpiece on today in "Our Neighbor," which teaches a fine lesson, as well as unfolding a beautiful story. It is a lesson of comparisons, great comic nevelty, "Mr. Treater's Treat." It is one of the merriest films ever manufactured.

The Bijou is always the comfortable, as well as joy spot.

Washington, Oct. 23.—Senators Borah, of Idaho, and Cummins, of Iowa, today were added to the list of members of Congress who are to speak for the Republican party in the Maryland, New Jersey and Massachusetts State campaign within the next ten days.

If it's the latest in millinery you want, you must go to Rehder's. The best material, best styles and best work.—Advertisement.

COL. ASHLEY HORNE'S FUNERAL

Conducted Yesterday From Home at Clayton—Southern Educational Association—Other Raleigh News Notes.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Raleigh, N. C., Oct. 23.—The people of Raleigh and the whole State were shocked and deeply grieved by the news of the death of Hon. Ashley Horne, which occurred early yesterday morning at his home in Clayton. He was in Raleigh the day before with Governor Craig for the opening of the State Fair, of which he was an ex-president and seemed in good spirits, although he was too weak to leave his automobile for tramps through the fair buildings with the official party.

Mrs. Horne was with him. They returned home in the afternoon, traveling in an automobile, and he retired as well as usual, but complained about 1 o'clock and died before medical aid could reach him. Aside from Col. Horne's great achievement in industrial and commercial affairs he has been a prominent and most useful figure in public life and has made provision for a splendid monument to the North Carolina Women of the Confederacy that is soon to be set up in Capitol Square at a cost of $12,000, this being a gift to the State by Col. Horne.

Col. Horne was a candidate for the Democratic nomination for Governor against W. W. Kitchin and Locke Craig, and although he developed a very strong support, the nomination went to Governor Kitchin. Col. Horne took his defeat in fine spirit and never swerved in his devotion and effort in Democratic politics. He came to the 1911 Legislature as representative from Johnston and was appointed chairman of the State Building Commission for the erection of the quarter million dollar State administration building, just completed. He was also made chairman of the special commission for the erection of the Home for Wives and Widows of Confederate Veterans to be erected at Fayetteville. Col. Horne had been taking the keenest interest in the design and building arrangements for this home.

In 1861, at the age of 17 years, Col. Horne volunteered as sergeant in Company C, 53rd regiment, Grimes' brigade, and he commanded his company on its final march to Appomattox.

Col. Horne is survived by Mrs. Horne and four children, Mr. Chas. W. Horne, Mrs. Battle, Mrs. McCullers and Miss Swannanoa Horne, all of Clayton. He was 72 years old. The funeral was held from the home at Clayton this afternoon.

It is stated at the State Department of Education here that the indications are for a very large representation of North Carolina educators at the annual session of the Southern Educational Association, to be in session at Nashville, Tenn., October 30th to November 1st. The co-operative committee from North Carolina consists of L. C. Brogden, Raleigh, chairman; N. W. Walker, Chapel Hill; C. W. Wilson, Greenville; Edwin D. Pusey, Goldsboro; N. C. Newbold, Washington; A. T. Allen, Salisbury; R. H. Latham, Winston-Salem; B. H. Dougherty, Boone; C. C. Wright, Hunt Creek; C. E. Boger, Concord; C. W. Masset, Durham; J. A. Long, Jackson; W. L. Vaughan, Washington; E. C. Brooks, Durham; J. H. Highsmith, Wake Forest.

The Corporation Commission made an order today withdrawing the exemption extended to the Southern Railway from the act of 1911 requiring double ticket windows at the Salisbury station. The exemption was granted on petition of citizens to the effect that the double window-ticket and mileage service was not needed there. Now the order eliminating this exemption and requiring the installation of the mileage window is made on another petition from citizens and is effective November 15th.

WOODMEN GATHER.

District Convention Being Held at Tarboro—Other News Notes.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Tarboro, N. C., Oct. 23.—More than 150 delegates representing the towns in the fourth district of the Woodmen of the World, arrived here late yesterday and early today to hold their annual convention. The attendance has broken all records so far for a district meeting. The convention was opened at noon today with an address of welcome by Col. John L. Bridgers. Sovereign Ashby Dunn, of Scotland Neck, made the response. Mr. L. L. Tilley, of Durham, delivered an address on "Aid of a Woodman," and Sovereign Manager E. B. Lewis confined his remarks to the "Explanation of Principles of Woodcraft."

The visiting Woodmen were the guests of Catalpa lodge at luncheon served in the armory of the Edgecombe Guards. Another business session was held this afternoon, at which time prizes were awarded for the best record made by any lodge during the past year. District Deputy S. O. Bryant awarded first prize to Greenville, second to Orlando.

Tonight there was an exemplication of degrees work by the Catalpa team, following which the closing ceremony was held.

Mr. T. B. Jacocks was called to Woodville today to attend the funeral services of his aunt, Mrs. E. S. Hall, who died Wednesday in Norfolk. Mrs. Hall was aged 60 years and is survived by two children: John H. Hall, officer United States army, and Mrs. W. H. Brinkley, of Norfolk. Mrs. Hall formerly resided in North Carolina.

Mr. J. L. D. Corbett, a prosperous merchant and farmer of Macclesfield, died Wednesday afternoon at his home, after an extended illness covering a period of a year. He was 43 years of age and is survived by his wife and six children. The funeral services were conducted from his late home this afternoon.

Monroe, La., Oct. 23.—Warren Eaton, a negro, accused of having made an insulting remark to a white woman here Monday, was taken from the jail here early yesterday by a mob and hanged to a telegraph pole.

GREENSBORO FOR ROADS DAY

Mayor Murphy Issues Proclamation for Observance—Gate City Men Victims of Pickpockets—Inspecting State Normal.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Greensboro, N. C., Oct. 23.—Mayor Murphy has issued a proclamation calling upon Greensboro people to assist in making "Good Roads Days" on November 5th and 6th, as designated by Governor Craig, the great success it deserves to be. Already a number of interested Greensboro people have volunteered to go to the country on that day and make the dirt fly. Mayor Murphy calls upon the women to assist by preparing dinners for those who work on the roads.

W. H. and A. C. Bonkemeyer have returned from Alexandria, Va., where they went to attend the trial of the two men who picked their pockets and secured a sum of money from them a few weeks ago while on a train coming out from Washington. One of the men was given eight years and another one year in the State penitentiary. The Messrs. Bonkemeyer had all of their money returned to them and all of their expenses attending the trial were paid, which shows that Virginia justice is not so bad.

J. G. Kellum, secretary of the board of control of Florida, was here yesterday and today to inspect the buildings, equipment and management of the State Normal and Industrial College. He comes with a view of applying the methods of the institution to the schools of Florida. The board of control, of which he is secretary, has entire control of the higher educational institutions of his State. He has visited a number of other schools in States of the Atlantic seaboard. He said that the democratic spirit of the State Normal College impressed him above everything else. Other things were gratifying and he found nothing to displease but this one thing stood out apart from the others in North Carolina's college for women.

GREENE COUNTY NEGROES.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Kinston, N. C., Oct. 23.—Recently when Charley Allen and Johnson Mills, Greene county negroes, engaged in an affray with deadly weapons in Browntown at the home of the latter, Allen was severely cut with a knife by his host and in self defense shot Mills through the abdomen, fatally wounding him. The men married sisters, and Allen interfered when Mills, intoxicated, attempted to chastise his wife. The angry black turned upon him and inflicted a knife wound which severed the main brachial artery of his left arm. The man who was shot was too badly wounded to be moved, and was left under guard at his home, while Allen was locked in the county jail at Snow Hill. It was expected for a time that both would recover, but last night, nearly a fortnight after the affray, Mills began to waver and his condition terminated in a dying state. By a coincidence, at almost the very minute that his recovery was declared impossible, the dressings of Allen's wound became loosened and the severed artery again broke, so that before the doctors arrived he was in a precarious condition. Two physicians saved him temporarily, but his recovery is very uncertain. Mills is expected to die today, although a very rugged constitution is deferring the end. It is believed that Allen will be exonerated if he survives, as the wives of both men will probably testify that he killed Mills in self defense and after he had been badly wounded.

An interesting incident of the exciting man hunt which occurred in Lenoir and Craven counties following the escape of ten convicts from the county camp near here several weeks ago on a Sunday morning, came to light only today, when a colored man who saw the officers lose "Doghead" the much-sought inciter of the uprising at the camp, described it. On the night of the mutiny and "gang breaking" four of the men were trailed to Dover, 10 miles east, by possemen. Three of them had separated from Doghead, and fled from the approaching officers. The bad negro and Walter Bunting, a local character, were together when the posse held them up on a dark road. A gun was accidentally discharged and Bunting was badly wounded. In the confusion Doghead remained unidentified. He was requested to get a doctor, and immediately complaisant, ran off to get the "physician." The doctor did not come, and the fugitive convict is yet at liberty. Bunting has recovered from his injuries.

A college orchestra has been organized, and has been practicing every night after supper in the Y. M. C. A. The prospects for a good orchestra are very bright, there being about eight instruments, and all of the students composing the orchestra being good musicians.

Thursday and Friday have been given to the students as a holiday by the faculty, on account of the State Fair here this week, Thursday being the biggest day of the fair and also the date of the annual football game here, which is played against Georgetown this year.

INJURY TO WILSON MAN.

Jumped From Moving Train—Double Funeral—Women Organize.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Wilson, N. C., Oct. 23.—Mr. James T. Rice, one of the traveling men on the staff of the Wilson Times, happened to a serious injury yesterday at Zebulon. Mr. Rice was a passenger on the Norfolk Southern train and wished to stop at Zebulon. The train, which was a Raleigh Fair special, did not stop and Mr. Rice not realizing the speed of the train, jumped and fell, breaking one leg and his collar bone. He was given surgical attention and brought to his home here on the evening train last night. He is resting well and his physicians think there is no internal injury.

A double funeral service was held here yesterday when the remains of Mr. and Mrs. Redding Suggs, of King's Mountain, were brought to Wilson. Capt. Suggs died eight years ago and Mrs. Suggs died Monday night. Before her death she requested that the remains of her husband be removed to Wilson and that she be buried in the same place. A number of relatives from different sections attended the burial service, conducted by Rev. M. Bradshaw, of the Methodist church. Capt. and Mrs. Suggs formerly resided here and were devoted Christian people.

Twenty-five women of the town of Baileys met Tuesday night and organized a Woman's Association with the purpose in view of civic improvement.

For the succeeding days of the present week, Dr. Archibald Henderson, professor of mathematics in the University, has been engaged by gatherings of National interest to deliver addresses. On the evening of October 23rd, Dr. Henderson is to deliver the principal address before the Ohio Valley Historical Association, at Lexington, Ky. On the following evening Dr. Henderson is to be the guest of honor at the annual dinner of the association, again delivering the principal speech of the evening. The themes of the two addresses of Dr. Henderson will be "The Beginning of American Expansion," and "The Pioneers of North Carolina in the Mirror of Their Contemporaries," both topics aiming to give prominence to the intimate connection between North Carolina and Kentucky, and the debt which the latter owes the former.

CONDITIONS SERIOUS.

Seven Bubonic Plague Stricken Rats Killed in Seattle.

Seattle, Wash., Oct. 23.—Dr. James E. Crickton, health officer of Seattle, said today the Bubonic plague situation in Seattle was serious, but that the health department hoped to prevent an outbreak of the disease.

"Not for six years," he said, "has there been a case of Bubonic plague in a human being in Seattle. In those six years we have found 24 plague rats. A considerable number were taken during the plague outbreak six years ago and recently seven were killed in a section of the water front which has been thoroughly isolated. Thousands of dollars are being expended in Seattle under the orders of the health department, in tearing down condemned wooden building, constructing cement basements and otherwise making the water front as rat proof as possible. The infected district is two blocks long and one block deep, and fronts on the bay with a planked street behind. We are trying to make it impossible for rats to lodge or breed on the water front."

BACTERIA IN WATER.

Railroad Using Little Less Than "Diluted Sewage."

Washington, Oct. 23.—One great railroad system has been furnishing drinking water to its passengers, which, the experts of the public health service have pronounced, after bacteriological examination, to be nothing less than "diluted sewage."

Surgeon General Blue today reported to Assistant Secretary Newton, of the Treasury Department, that an investigation disclosed that the railroad company has been filling the water tanks of its passenger coaches at a supply 300 yards down stream from the sewega outlet of a large Eastern city. An examination disclosed more than 60,000 bacteria in each teaspoonful of water. The investigators reported that the water was "turbid" had a "pronounced taste" and was "grossly polluted."

Pending the outcome of a notice to the railroad company to change its source of supply, officials have withheld the name of the line.

Oils distilled from the needles of spruce and fir trees are being used to scent petroleum floor oils, which are sometimes objectionable on account of their odor.

Hooray! Baby To Rule the House

No Longer Do Women Fear The Greatest of All Human Blessings.

It is a joy and comfort to know that those much-talked-of pains and other distresses that are said to precede child-bearing may easily be avoided. No woman need fear the slightest discomfort if she will fortify herself with the well-known and time-honored remedy, "Mother's Friend."

This is a most grateful, penetrating, external application that at once softens and makes pliant the abdominal muscles and ligaments. They naturally expand without the slightest strain, and thus not only banish all tendency to nervous, twitching spells, but there is an entire freedom from nausea, discomfort, sleeplessness and dread that so often leave their impress upon the babe.

The occasion is therefore one of unbounded, joyful anticipation, and too much stress can not be laid upon the remarkable influence which a mother's happy, pre-natal disposition has upon the health and fortunes of the generation to come.

Mother's Friend is recommended only for the relief and comfort of expectant mothers, thousands of whom have used and recommend it. You will find it on sale at all drug stores at $1.00 a bottle. A man is judged on account of his deals rather than his ideals.

One of the signs of the times is that men are gradually learning to feel less "rakish, what'll you takish."

Ex-Governor Sulzer refuses to acknowledge that what was proven on him was sufficient for his impeachment.

Our fairs ought to show what we produce and alongside of them should be exhibited what we let others produce for us.

No man should expect to "come back" till everybody forgets what it was he did that gave people a bad impression of him.

It is said Mrs. Pankhurst wears a Hungarian jabot, whereas we fully expected her to come over here armed with a Russian knout.

"Mrs. Sulzer will take the stump," says a New York dispatch. The question, however, is whether "the same old Bill" will take the cake.

A State may be a great producer, but if it does not keep its money at home it is proof that it isn't producing enough of what it needs.

President Taft gets mentioned every now and then but it is always honorable mention. That cannot be said of every ex-President the country has had.

The Charlotte Chronicle sententiously remarks: "A county fair is what the people make it." Quite true. A county fair shows what kind of people a county has.

The ease with which the affections of some New York husbands can be alienated is evidence that their affections are not worth the money which the courts order to be paid out as alimony or damages.

The refusal of the Cuban Congress to meet in response to the President's call leads one to infer that there is no money in the treasury. In fact, the extra session has been called to enable Cuba to borrow money.

According to the Canadian census of 1911, the population of Prince Edwards Island was 93,728, compared with 103,259 in 1900. The probability is that Prince Edwards thought it could get along without good roads.

A Philadelphia man whose wife knocked him down and paddled him took poison. No North Carolinian has so little sense as to take poison after having taken a beating. After a man with horse sense gets beat up, he knows that the worst is over.

A Paris item is to the effect that "the latest feminine fad is for women to put their hands in their pockets." Nevertheless, they will keep right on putting their hands in the old man's pockets as a matter of habit instead of fashion.

Recent events have demonstrated the fact that it is immoral for a candidate to use the campaign fund to pay his grocery bill. It is also immoral to corrupt voters with a campaign fund. The campaign fund is full of evil if those who handle it are evil.

Of course, there is always something to be seen at the "Southside Fair" at Petersburg. The Northside North Carolina girls and the Southside Virginia girls are the special attraction in Petersburg during the fair. The Index-Appeal would not dare to dispute it.

When a politician keeps everlastingly at it till he gets an office, he serves his term and meanwhile keeps his eye skinned for some other office. His next claim to recognition is based upon what he has done for his country or the State, and in spite of what all of us put together have done, the census gives us all away.

If President Wilson had permitted the protectionists to write the tariff bill, were to let the bankers write the currency bill, and should proceed against the trusts in accordance with the ideas of Wall Street, the only possible objection that could be raised against his administration would come from about 90,000,000 disgruntled people.

DEATH OF COL. HORNE.

The death of few men has caused such universal sorrow in North Carolina as has been manifested all over the State on account of the death of Colonel Ashley Horne, which occurred at his home in Clayton, Johnston county, last Wednesday morning at 1 o'clock. For several months Colonel Horne had been in bad health, the beginning of the end having occurred last Summer when he had a stroke of paralysis on a train en route to the Confederate reunion at Chattanooga. He could not make the trip and had to return to his home and forego the pleasure it always gave him to meet with his comrades of 61-65.

Colonel Horne was 72 years of age, and was not alone the most beloved citizen of his county but held a high place in the affections of people all over the State, especially those who knew him or learned to know of him because of his splendid type of manhood, his great benefactions, and his prominence in the civic and political affairs of the State. Probably his noblest deed, and there are many to his score, was when he conceived the idea of building a monument to the Women of the Confederacy, the heroines who suffered most and whose fortitude and patriotism was never more sublimely illustrated by womanhood in all the history of the world.

Knowing fully of the sacrifice, the sufferings and the sublime heroism of the women of the South, it was Colonel Horne's earnest desire to see a monument erected to commemorate the lives of the mothers, the wives, the sisters and the sweethearts who gave their loved ones to the Lost Cause or bore some share in the privations of four years of devastating war. He felt so earnestly about it that last year he donated $10,000 to erect a monument to the Women of the Confederacy, and before many months the memorial which he so generously provided will be erected on the capitol square at Raleigh. He had hoped to be present at the unveiling, but it was decreed otherwise, although he had been made fully aware of the deep sense of appreciation felt by the women of North Carolina and all the South towards the noble impulse that inspired him to perpetuate the memory of the grandest women in the history of our country. It was timely that the Daughters of the Confederacy sent him appropriate resolutions acknowledging his generosity and tendering him a testimonial of their profound appreciation. They also informed him that when the monument is unveiled it was their purpose to present the State with an oil portrait of himself.

Colonel Horne was a true and valiant man, and as citizen and neighbor he illustrated an example that was worthy of the splendid type of man that he was. When quite a young man he volunteered and entered the Confederate army, and till the surrender at Appomatox he shared the fortunes and misfortunes of that immortal soldiery that was led by General Robert E. Lee. After the surrender he returned to Johnston county and by agricultural and mercantile pursuits he became one of the State's richest men. He was easily one of the most generous of the State's sons, and there was no movement for the good of his State, his county or community that he was not ready to do even more than his part.

In 1908, Colonel Horne was an aspirant for the Governorship and contested for the Democratic nomination with Former Governor W. W. Kitchin and the present Governor, Locke Craig. It is history that Governor Kitchin was nominated, but Colonel Horne had a large following of enthusiastic friends who stuck to him till there was no chance of his nomination. Disappointed but not soured, Colonel Horne soon forgot his defeat and lived to his death one of the most loyal Democrats of the State. After he failed to get the nomination for Governor, the people of his county sent him to the Legislature where he served with ability and great usefulness as a member of the House. He was made chairman of the commission under whose supervision the State's new administration building was erected in Raleigh. No man in the State stood higher in the estimation of its officials or people than Colonel Horne, and it can truly be said that his death creates an aching void in North Carolina.

STREET DISPLAY AND GERMS.

Referring again to the action of City Council in repealing the ordinance prohibiting use of the streets for mercantile displays, it strikes us as curious that there should be any demand for street space for exposing goods of any description. The people were rejoiced when that custom was discontinued a few years ago, and it was not so much the pedestrians that felt a sense of relief but those people who felt that it was a long step in the direction of sanitation.

It used to distress one to see food products displayed in the open where the germ-laden dust of the streets settled over them all day long. We have no doubt many purchasers side-stepped vegetables and fruits that were so displayed, and certainly a would-be purchaser did on one occasion when an amiable shop cat walked all over the display and two kittens frolicked around at will. We should say that if Wilmington is going back to that sort of thing, all food products should be screened and even then it would not protect them from disease-breeding dirt. When the people are educated up to the danger of consuming products that are displayed in the open and subject to contamination, the merchant who advertises that he has no street display is pretty apt to get the trade.

Of course, if the city will not protect the health of the people and protect pedestrians from annoyance, the merchant has his choice of keeping part of his stock out on the pavement, but we should not think many would do so, for the reason that goods of any kind suffer damage from exposure. We doubt whether sales are effected by such displays, and certainly more people don't buy them than those who do make purchases of food products exposed to dirt, flies and animals, not to mention all classes of goods that are bound to be affected by exposure.

IDLE HANDLERS OF GOODS.

Some things that happen in Wilmington now and then remind us of the proprietor of a New York delicatessen shop who posted this sign over his pickle barrel: Don't pick up the pickles." Dipping one's hands in the pickles isn't very nice, and it is quite reasonable that the merchant should object to the habit of those customers who insist on fingering the pickles or or anything else that he wants to sell for people to eat.

For a long time the New York delicatessen man put up with seeing people dipping their fingers in the brine to see that they could get the size they wanted or make sure that none were soft, but he wasn't able to help himself till one of his particular patrons threatened to report him to the health department.

No one will deny that indiscriminate handling of pickles is objectionable and should not be permitted. Even a Texas hotel keeper was so thoughtful of his guests that one of his house rules read: "Guests are requested not to whittle the warts off the pickles." He might have had another, "don't rub all the fuzz off the peaches," and, in a general sense, don't finger anything that people have to eat, unless you are going to eat it yourself.

WILMINGTON RATES FROM ST. LOUIS.

The Charleston News and Courier complains that while Charleston is 119 miles nearer to St. Louis than Wilmington and 98 miles nearer than Norfolk, yet on practically all classes of goods the freight rates from St. Louis to Charleston are far greater to that port than to either Wilmington or Norfolk. On farm wagons, our esteemed South Carolina contemporary says, the rate from St. Louis to Norfolk is 32 cents and to Wilmington 35 cents, while to Charleston it is 42 cents—ten cents the hundred pounds higher than to Norfolk for a haul of 98 miles further. Says the News and Courier:

"On meal, grits, feed, etc., the rate from St. Louis to Norfolk is 14 1-2 cents, to Wilmington 21 cents, to Charleston 23 cents—a jump this time of 8 1-2 cents in favor of the Virginia port.

"On agricultural implements Norfolk is given a rate from St. Louis of 32 cents. Wilmington one of 35 cents, while Charleston has to pay 44 cents the hundred pounds, or 9 cents more than Wilmington and 12 cents more than Norfolk. So the tables go, and not alone from St. Louis, but from practically all of that great stretch of country in the Middle West for which on every ground of reason this port should be the natural outlet on the Atlantic."

The Charleston folks are pointing out the discrimination against their port, and yet it is quite likely Charleston has some advantages that the other ports would have reason to complain about.

It is not enough for one city to do what others do. The best way is to do it better and get in the limelight.

CURRENT COMMENT.

Charles Tellier, inventor of cold storage, dies of hunger and cold. Is there another planet in the universe, we wonder, that could furnish such strange tales as this old earth?—Greensboro News.

Here we are, almost at November, with a glorious autumn so far, bountiful crops, a happy people. It begins to look like one of that month's events will be the celebration of the short line between Raleigh and Charlotte; the important Raleigh, Charlotte & Southern division of the Norfolk Southern Railway. It is a road which can be made to mean a great deal to Raleigh. Of course, Charlotte will seek to make the most of it. Raleigh has already gotten in touch with 107 miles of this line; that is to Mt. Gilead. There are 52 miles beyond which is so far unknown territory so far as Raleigh is concerned, but we want to know it. The completion of the new road, so near at hand, means a large shortening of distance. We must introduce Raleigh to all the folks along the line.—Raleigh Times.

Col. Ashley Horne, of Clayton, died suddenly at 1 o'clock this morning at Clayton. He was well known throughout the country as a public-spirited man and a most clever gentleman. He was a sergeant in Col. Morehead's regiment during the war and was present at the surrender of Appomattox. With two or three companions he set out on foot for his home. Coming through Caswell and Orange counties he encountered Federal soldiers and was somewhat alarmed. He gave Gen. Sherman his first information of Gen. Lee's surrender at Appomattox and it so pleased him that he placed Col. Horne and his companions aboard an engine and tender and sent them on their way to Johnston county, Col. Horne's home. Col. Horne was a candidate for Governor when W. W. Kitchin was nominated and gave the others a race, prolonging the convention for almost a week.—Greensboro Record.

BELIEVES IN WILMINGTON.

To the Editor of The Star:

Congratulations to Wilmington! Would you like to see yourself as others see you? Will you listen to a word from a stranger?

First impressions are the greatest and as a comparative stranger who comes among you for a short while to talk business with some of you, let me tell you how readily a stranger sees your efforts to create a favorable impression upon one who casually calls here and upon the manufactureer who contemplates locating here, in the preparations you are making for increasing the importance of your city as a distributing point for exports, imports and local trade, and in the faith and enthusiasm which you show in your natural advantages, location, climate and commercial opportunities in general.

How fortunate you are in having a line of vessels plying between your wharves and the metropolis of the New World, the greatest port on earth, and an asset which any city, having direct water communication, pushes to the limit, and which in your case establishes Wilmington as a natural rendezvous for tourists, sportsmen and excursionists, and thereby gains for you in conjunction with adequate rail facilities that greatest of mediums for publicity the casual traveler.

A gentleman remarked to the writer in New York City that Wilmington was the dead end and round house of several railroads. On the contrary it is a condition compelling the participation of Wilmington in the distribution of products, handled by these roads. Is not the island of Manhattan a dead end, touched by only three Inter-State railroads, and still distant at least a mile from 20 other roads—and this condition on account of a difficult natural barrier?

Another thing which shows a progressive element working hard in your city is your new Commercial Club. Well may its inspired spirit and motto be "Excelsior." May I suggest that one of its first efforts be turned towards the improvement of the accommodation on your steamship line to New York City or else an intelligent co-operative effort among business men delegating this body the lever in a scientific publicity campaign.

Your natural advantages are readily apparent to the stranger, who is divorced from your daily routine, and because of it is able to see your latent possibilities more clearly and quickly than those who live here all the time.

In conclusion, may I venture a prophecy—Watch the eastern shore to Southport. Its advancement and development in ten years will astonish all. Again congratulations.

Greenville, N. C., Oct. 23.—It is the purpose of East Carolina Teachers' Training School to be of as much service as possible to all persons engaged in the teaching profession and to aid them in becoming more efficient teachers. The work will be given by competent instructors and will prove of great value to those who avail themselves of this opportunity of improving their method of teaching and increasing their store of knowledge.

Overworked Women

A little too much work soon weakens a woman, physically and nervously. What she needs, then, is a tonic. A tonic takes the place of a rest, as it helps the system to "catch up"—to pick up the dropped stitches and start again into the daily work, in good health and good spirits. The best tonic for you to take is CARDUI, the woman's tonic. Many years of success have proven its real merit, in all cases of female weakness. Cardui contains no dangerous, poisonous, minerals; no habit-forming drugs; no harmful ingredients of any kind. It is simply a mild, vegetable extract, of medicinal, tonic herbs, with great efficacy in the treatment of the ailments and weaknesses peculiar to the female sex. Please try Cardui. It cannot hurt you. It is sure to do you good. If may be the very thing your system most needs.

The Woman's Tonic

"A PERFECT WRECK"

I was a perfect wreck from female trouble. I had pains in my right side, and suffered from fainting spells and dizziness; then I would have numb, cold feelings. Sometimes my feet were swollen, so I could not walk a step. I had so much backache and was so nervous and weak. My appetite was irregular, and my kidneys troubled me at times.

After 20 years of suffering, a friend advised me to give CARDUI a trial. I did so, and found great relief, after taking the first bottle. I continued to take it until I was completely cured. Now I am a well woman and do almost all my housework.

REVIVAL GROWS IN INTEREST

"The Fountain of Life" Subject of Dr. O'Kelley's Discourse at the First Baptist Church Last Night.

"The Fountain of Life" was the subject of Dr. T. W. O'Kelley's sermon at the First Baptist church last night. He presented in a clear and logical manner one of the basic truths of the Gospel which made a deep impression upon the large congregation who heard him. Dr. O'Kelley is one of the most eloquent and forceful preachers of the South, and his sermons this week have been heard by large audiences. The interest in the series of services is increasing, and the meetings have been of great benefit to all who have attended the services.

Dr. O'Kelley's text last night was taken from the 36th Psalm and the ninth verse, "For with thee is the fountain of life." He showed how there is in the hearts of men the desire for life and illustrated this by the familiar historical incident of Ponce de Leon who believed that somewhere in America there was a fountain of perpetual youth. He went in search of it, but returned to die as other mortals.

"All of us would like to live forever," he stated, "and this inward longing is God's call to eternal life for which he has made provision in Jesus Christ, our Saviour. He offers it to us without price, and is anxious that we accept it."

He emphasized the fact that the fountain always remains the same, and never changes. There is ample provision for everyone, and the only condition made is that we accept it.

"In the lowlands the artesian wells furnish pure water from the hills. This fountain of life opened on Calvary its cleansing, life giving waters to those who are afar off, and dying in the material atmosphere of their sins."

There will be services this afternoon at 3:30 o'clock, and again at night at 8 o'clock. Both services will be conducted by Dr. O'Kelley. There will be only one service tomorrow, this being in the afternoon at 3:30 o'clock. While it will be especially for children, all are invited to attend.

ANOTHER BALTIMORE LINE.

Baltimore & Carolina Steamship Co., Willing to Come.

Mayor P. Q. Moore yesterday at noon received a telegram from Mr. John R. Turrentine, Jr., of this city, who is in Baltimore, stating that the Baltimore & Carolina Steamship Company had agreed to make Wilmington with its line provided the company is given the co-operation of the business interests of the city and that wharf facilities can be secured. Mr. Turrentine stated that arrangements had been made for a temporary wharf. Mayor Moore was asked to get endorsements of the trade, probably meaning to get the business men to agree to give the line a portion of their business, and that with assurance of co-operation on the part of the shippers the line would be established. Mr. Turrentine stated that he would return to Wilmington Sunday.

Mayor Moore stated that he would turn the information contained in the telegram over to the Chamber of Commerce and the Commercial Club so that either or both bodies could take such action as is thought best.

Just at this time the shippers are considering the proposition of the Morse Securities Company to establish a line between Baltimore and Wilmington. Both propositions may be taken under advisement at the same time.

FOR FLOOD SUFFERERS.

Supreme Master of Exchequer Makes Report of Pythian Fund.

Capt. Thos. D. Meares, Supreme Master of Exchequer, Knights of Pythias, is mailing to Supreme and Grand Lodge officers and to officers of contributing lodges, a report of the contributions for the relief fund for the aid of Pythians in the storm and flood swept district in the Middle West. There are 4,100 copies being sent out. The Supreme Master of Exchequer handled $39,828.63. Of this North Carolina contributed $552.41. In addition to the above, $1,703.75 was remitted direct to Ohio, and $326 to Indiana. Ohio raised $9,361.10 and Indiana $3,900.65, from their own lodges and members. Of the sum received by the Supreme Master of Exchequer $25,000 was sent to Ohio, $10,000 to Indiana; $3,000 to Nebraska, and $1,100 to West Virginia.

While the total sum contributed, $55,120.13 is quite large, members of the order in Ohio alone lost three-quarters of a million of dollars so the help rendered could only reach to the avoidance of temporary suffering. Losses in Indiana were no doubt equally grievous.

TUG RETURNS FROM CUBA.

Blanche Arrived in Port Yesterday After Two Years in Cuban Waters.

The tug Blanche, owned by the Wilmington Towing Company, which has been in Cuban waters for nearly two years, arrived in port yesterday morning at 2 o'clock in charge of Capt. W. A. Sanders, one of the officials of the towing company. The tug left Wilmington in February, 1911, and has been towing mostly in Cuban waters. During that time she has been under the able mastership of Capt. Fred Dosher, who returned with her. Engineer Soldon Delmar, of Beaufort, also returned with her. Both of these gentlemen are most efficient in their line and have done splendid work while abroad. The boat came to Wilmington direct from Miami, Fla., where she carried a tow from a port in Cuba. Mrs. Dosher, who has been with her husband, came by rail, and went to her home in Southport.

Charged With Gambling.

The last of the 30 or more warrants that were issued September 5th for the arrest of persons charged with gambling at Cottle's drug store on Castle street, were served yesterday when Constable Davis arrested Henry McNeill and Ed McNeill, both colored. They gave bond and will have a hearing before Justice Harriss today. The other persons implicated in the alleged gambling that was said to have been carried on extensively at Cottle's place, were let off with a suspended judgment upon payment of the costs. Since the warrants were issued the store has been closed, and the proprietor, B. J. Cottle, is now serving a 12 months' sentence on the county roads for violating the prohibition law.

MAY GET EXPERT ON WATER

Conference This Afternoon Between City Council and Committee From Chamber of Commerce—Met Yesterday.

Preliminary to the formation of some definite plan for improving the public water supply, either through the removal of the present intake to a point nine miles up the river, which has been advocated at different times for several years, or through deep wells, which Councilman Wood has been urging for the past few months, a meeting of prominent members of the Chamber of Commerce and several other leading citizens was held in the rooms of the Chamber of Commerce at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon.

The outcome of the conference, for it was an executive session and nothing official was given out about the proceedings, was the appointment of a committee composed of Messrs. J. Allan Taylor, H. C. McQueen and Dr. Harllee Bellamy with President M. J. Corbett, of the Chamber of Commerce, to meet in executive session at 4 o'clock this afternoon with the City Council. The principal question for consideration this afternoon, most likely, is the advisability of getting a water expert, one of recognized authority on the subject, to come to Wilmington and make a careful investigation and study of the entire situation and make report, so that the city will have something definite upon which to proceed. The report would include recommendations as to whether it would be better to have the water intake remain where it is, removed to a point nine miles up the Cape Fear river, or whether the water supply could be obtained from deep wells. Councilman Loughlin has been in correspondence with a water expert of New York City and his services could be secured, it is said.

Among those attending the meeting yesterday afternoon were President M. J. Corbett, Messrs. J. Allan Taylor, H. C. McQueen, Louis E. Hall, Dr. Harllee Bellamy, Mayor P. Q. Moore, President T. M. Emerson, of the Atlantic Coast Line; Chairman M. S. Willard, of the County Board of Health, Chemist Geo. F. Catlett, and others.

At the meeting of the County Board of Health last Friday night Chemist Catlett submitted for the information of that board a very exhaustive report of the waterworks system, including in it a description of the plant from the viewpoint of the chemist, and recommended certain improvements that are imperative in the plant, these costing anywhere from $15,000 to $25,000, it is estimated. Mr. Catlett, in his report, also gave the result of efforts made in Wilmington, Charleston and some other places to secure a large supply of water from deep wells. It is understood that no matter if the water intake is removed the improvements at the waterworks plant will have to be made anyway. Though if the water supply is obtained from deep wells and the water does not have to be treated to make it pure, then it will not be necessary to make any improvements at the waterworks plant.

It has been estimated that it would cost about $200,000 to remove the intake nine miles up the river. Members of the committee of the Board of Engineers for Rivers and Harbors who were in Wilmington a few days ago to attend a hearing had their attention called to the waterworks plant and the removal of the intake. They said that Wilmington is not confronted with any water problem at all, that it would be a comparatively easy matter to carry the intake up the river several miles where there would be no danger of contamination from the sewage emptying into the river at Wilmington. The intake could be removed five or five miles up the river cheaper than it could be carried the whole nine miles, but it is understood that those who favor removal of the intake desire to go not less than nine miles, so as to be certain to be through with the problem for all time or at least for years to come.

While the meeting yesterday was executive in nature, as stated, and nothing whatever was given out for publication as to what transpired, it is understood that the report of Chemist Catlett or parts of it were read and discussed. It seemed to be the idea of those present that no mention of the matter should be made outside of the meeting until something definite had been decided upon. However, it is just like all other meetings that are supposed to be executive, the news of what took place got out on the street about as soon as the members of the conference themselves.

The City Council was scheduled to hold a meeting yesterday morning at 10 o'clock to hear the reading of the report of Mr. Catlett, but it was postponed until this morning at the same hour. It is presumed that it is desired that the members of the Council read over the report carefully this morning so that they will be able to discuss the matter more intelligently at the meeting with the committee this afternoon.

SPRUNT COTTON BUYER.

Any Town Fortunate to Have One, Says Wadesboro Paper.

The following from this week's Wadesboro Ansonian giving well-deserved praise to Messrs. Alex. Sprunt & Son, the large cotton exporters of Wilmington, will be read with interest here:

"Mr. T. W. Austin bought 1,092 bales of cotton for Alex. Sprunt & Son, of Wilmington, last Wednesday, the average price being about 13.25. This well known and justly popular cotton concern has been buying almost all of the cotton sold in this section for some time, being one of the largest exporters in the country. In this connection it should be stated, also, that any town is fortunate to have a Sprunt buyer on its market, as this is usually a guarantee that the price will be as high as any other market. Wadesboro has taken first place as a cotton town this year, so have the other towns of the county, as the buyers there also sell a larger part of their cotton to the Sprunts."

Becomes District Manager.

Mr. J. M. Moore, formerly with the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company, has taken a position as district manager for the LaaFyette Mutual Life Insurance Company, of Lumberton. He has an office at No. 8 North Third street in the suite of offices now occupied by Justice John J. Fowler. The LaFayette was organized several years ago at Fayetteville, where it had its home until the first of the year when it was moved to Lumberton. While one of the younger companies it has already reached a substantial footing, and is doing a large business. Mr. Leo Todd has taken a position with Mr. Moore's agency here.

FOOTBALL GAME TOMORROW

Washington High School Will Play Wilmington Team at Hilton Park—Both Teams Have Strong Line-ups.

Wilmington High School will play its second game of football this season with the Washington High School tomorrow afternoon at 3:30 o'clock at Hilton Park. The Washington boys have a fine record this year, having won all the games that they have played. They beat Kinston High School by a score of 47 to 0, and had a good easy time througnout the game. The Wilmington boys have only played one game, this being last Saturday when they beat the Wilmington Tigers by a score of 34 to 9.

The line-up for the Wilmington team is in the following order: Grant will play right end. He is one of the best ends in the State, taking all forwards and getting down on punts. Capt. Thames is a fine man at tackle, breaking up all short end runs. Hanby is a new man, but is like a stone wall on the defense. Rhodes is the most promising center that the High School has ever had. Nurnberger is also a strong man on the line. Johnson has proven to be a steady lineman also. Hicks is the best lineman for breaking up kicks and catching the man behind the line. I. Silverman and Monroe are the two rear guards.

Hall and Jones are both fast and are fine on broken field running. Wagner is a splendid kicker, and is one of the best that the High School has had in years. Hashagen is a fast man on end runs. Thompson at fullback is the best line plunger the team has had in a long time. Wells is a good all round man on the line. Chinnis, Jacobs and Hammond have showed up fine and are good workers.

The line-up for the Washington High School is as follows: Warren, right end; Jones, right tackle; Hundell, right guard; Wilkinson, center; Howard, left guard; Harris, left tackle; Moore, left end; Smith, quarterback; Weston, right halfback; J. Weston, left halfback; Taylor, fullback; Gray, Brewer, W. Lewis and Hines, substitutes.

Game will be called promptly at 3:30 o'clock. Admission for adults, 25 cents. School children 15 cents.

CHICAGO GLEE CLUB.

First Number of Lyceum Course at St. Andrew's Tonight.

The first attraction of the Brotherhood Lyceum Course will be given at Memorial Hall of St. Andrew's Presbyterian church tonight at 8:30 o'clock. The Brotherhood was fortunate in securing as its first attraction the well known Chicago Glee Club which has been before the public constantly for 15 consecutive seasons. For 13 seasons it has had the same personnel, and these years of association and constant work and study have produced a perfection of ensemble truly remarkable.

One of the features will be the Trombone Quartette, first introduced by this club to the Lyceum and used only by them, one of the most artistic and pleasing novelties ever presented. Such selections as the Pilgrim's Chorus from Tannhauser by Wagner, and other classics, together with lighter selections lend a desirable variety. A feature is the impersonations by Mr. C. H. Dixon. His types are taken from life and are wholesome, refreshing, real and never overdrawn or exaggerated. His "Hoosier," an original sketch illustrated with poems by James Whitcomb Riley, and other portrayals are acknowledged to be among the best bits of characterization on the platform.

Single admission tonight will be 75 cents. Season ticket admitting one person to seven attractions, $2.50. Tickets will be on sale at the hall or may be had from Mr. A. C. Boney, 'phone 31.

TWO GAMES TONIGHT.

Usual Contests in Friday Night Basketball League.

The second round of games in the Friday Night Basketball League at the Boys' Brigade will be played tonight when Company A will meet Company B in their first struggle of the season for supremacy. Both teams will have their strongest line-up out and a great game is expected. The second game will be between the Eagles and the Cardinals and this, too, will be a great game as both teams are evenly matched, and fast, and they should do some splendid work.

The teams will line up as follows: Company B, Register, H., Branch and Shephard, forwards; Borneman, center; Register, E., and Sholar, R., guards. Company A, Gerdes, Herman and Cameron, forwards; Fick, center; Gerdes, J., and Kure, guards. Eagles, Fergus and Applewhite, forwards; Gerdes, C., center; Montgomery and Palmgren, guards. Cardinals, Register, M., and Irving, forwards; Huhn, center; King and Snakenburg, guards.

The games will begin at 8:30 o'clock. The public is invited and no admission will be charged. Mr. Dushan will referee.

BIG CARGO OF COTTON.

Over Fourteen Thousand Bales, Valued at Over Million.

The British steamer Cardigan, Capt. Williamson, cleared yesterday from the compresses of Messrs. Alexander Sprunt & Son for Bremen, Germany, carrying the largest and most valuable cargo of cotton for export from this port this season. The Cardigan will sail this morning with 14,443 bales of the staple, valued at $1,100,000. While the record cargo for the port is something like 18,000 bales in a single cargo, the Cardigan carries the greatest number of bales of the season. One other of the larger type of ships is now taking on cargo at the compresses of Messrs. Sprunt & Son and it is likely that the cargo of yesterday will hold the season's record but for a few days.

Postmaster at Brickton.

It will be of interest to many friends in Wilmington to learn that Mr. W. J. B. Orr, who was formerly connected with the Atlantic Coast Line in this city, has been appointed postmaster at Brickton, N. C. He bought a general merchandise business at that point several months ago, and is getting along real nicely with his new line of business. His many friends wish for him continued success.

EFFECTIVE IN TEN DAYS

Merchants May Use Sidewalks After November 3rd, It is Announced by Councilman Jones—Mayor Says Nay.

When several merchants began arrangements yesterday morning to use the two feet of sidewalk granted them Wednesday by the City Council for the display of their merchandise, they were informed of the fact that the amended ordinance is not effective for ten days after its final passage, therefore, it was announced by Councilman W. F. Jones, in charge of the Department of Public Safety, it will be November 3rd before the merchants will have the privilege of exhibiting their goods on the sidewalks.

Councilman Jones stated that on and after November 3rd the merchants who desire to use two feet of the sidewalk in front of their stores will be protected by the police department under the amended ordinance as adopted Wednesday.

The impression Wednesday was that the ordinance as amended was effective immediately after passage, but this was not the case as the city charter provides that all ordinances unless for the immediate preservation of the health of the community, the ordinance itself containing a statement of its urgency, shall not be effective until 10 days after final passage.

While Councilman Jones announces positively that the police department will respect the amended ordinance and allow merchants to use the sidewalks, Mayor Moore, who is opposed to the marring of the beauty of the streets in this way, is determined that all persons who offer to display their goods on the streets shall be arrested and charged with nuisance under the common law. He issued a positive statement to this effect yesterday.

The action of the Council in granting this privilege to the merchants was widely discussed yesterday from all angles. Some are glad that the merchants are again to be privileged to use the sidewalks, but there are not many outside of the merchants themselves who want to see the sidewalks cluttered up with boxes, barrels, etc., while there are some merchants—and at least one who formerly enjoyed the privilege of using a portion of the sidewalk—who regret the backward step that has been taken by the Council. "Now, that the streets are clean let them stay clean," said a merchant yesterday who some years ago was very anxious to use a small portion of the sidewalk for the display of gents' furnishings in a glass showcase.

It was reported yesterday that the Civic League, which has not had a meeting in many months, is planning to hold one to protest against the use of the sidewalks for the display of merchandise.

The Board of Health, as was stated in yesterday's Star, may give some assistance in keeping the streets clear of obstructions. Section 192, of Chapter XIII, of the revised ordinances of the city, requires that all "meat, meat products, fish and other sea food, vegetables, berries, fruit and other articles or substances of food, or drink, stored, kept or exposed for sale, within the city, shall be kept not less than two feet above the floor of the building, shop or place they are so exposed, unless such articles or substances are covered, cased or stored," etc. It is presumed that the section will apply as well to goods displayed for sale on the sidewalks. Section 193, of the same Chapter, requires that from April 1st to November 1st, all articles or substances of human food or drink shall be screened or otherwise covered from flies and other insects. These are health regulations. It is said that the County Board of Health may amend the last section quoted so that it will apply all the year around. This would practically defeat the purpose of a majority of the Council, for if the merchants who deal in foodstuffs, fruits, berries, etc., have to keep the articles on display covered up all the time the privilege will not be any advantage to them. The Board of Health may hold a meeting this week and give some consideration to the amendment of the present health regulations to protect the citizens from the danger of contaminated foodstuffs.

HEARING DAMAGE SUIT.

Case of J. E. Lewis vs. Wilmington Door & Lumber Co.

Superior Court is engaged in the trial of the case of John E. Lewis, white, against the Wilmington Door & Lumber Company, in which the plaintiff seeks to recover of the defendant $10,000 alleged damages for the loss of two or three fingers on his left hand and for other injuries received when his hand was caught in a machine which he was operating at the company's plant in June, 1912. Evidence of the plaintiff and his witnesses was heard yesterday afternoon, when the defendant made a motion for nonsuit. Argument on the motion will be heard this morning. John D. Bellamy & Son represent the plaintiff, while Robt. Ruark, Esq., appears for the defendant.

Only one other case was disposed of yesterday, this being that of Jefferson Moore against the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company, a verdict being returned by the jury for the full amount sued for, $165.

ANAEMIC SINCE CHILDHOOD.

How Miss Holmes Regained Her Health.

If you are an anaemic, you need more iron in your blood, and the tell-tale symptoms are a pale face—colorless lips, ashen finger nails, poor circulation, and short breath, and more serious diseases are easily contracted when in this condition.

What Vinol did for Miss Yvonne Holmes, of Fall River, Mass., it will do for every anaemic run-down person. She says: "I have been weak and anaemic since childhood, always had 'that tired feeling.' Tonic after tonic was tried with little or no result until Vinol was recommended and after taking three bottles, my appetite and digestion have been improved. I do not suffer any more from insomnia, nor do I have distressing headaches as formerly, and I am stronger than I have been for years."

We ask every anaemic or run-down, weak person in this vicinity to try a bottle of Vinol with the understanding that their money will be returned if it does not do all we claim.—Robert R. Bellamy, druggist, Wilmington, North Carolina.

ENJOYABLE SOCIAL EVENT AT THE BRIGADE.

About 50 members of Company C and their friends were entertained last night by several of the mothers and sisters of the boys and this proved to be a most delightful affair to the little fellows. There was a musical programme consisting of a soprano and contralto duet by Misses Genevieve Dushan and Ruth Bowen, who sang very sweetly and gave pleasure to their hearers.

Mrs. Howard B. Branch read a selection from the Saturday Evening Post, entitled, "What I Found in My Desk", this being the story of a school boy who found things tucked in his desk which could be placed there only by a real boy of the irrepressible age. This called forth many hearty laughs from the youngsters who saw themselves in the story.

A donkey party followed and afforded much amusement, after which a real spelling match was conducted with the entire crowd divided into two sections. Master Hooper Johnson was the victor while in the donkey party Master David Ellis was the fortunate hanger of tails and secured an extra saucer of ice cream for his prowess. A most amusing incident of this part of the fun was the effort of one of the boys to hang the tail onto one of the spectators.

After this fun refreshments were served to the great delight of the hungry "kids". This consisted of cake and ice cream and these boys expressed the same joy in the menu which is and has ever been manifested under similar conditions.

One feature of this gathering which was probably the most helpful, was an impromptu talk by Col. Walker Taylor to which the boys gave undivided attention and seemed much impressed by what was said. Every boy present voted this opening social function one of the best of the season and finally left expressing the hope that it would be repeated frequently.

WEDDING OF INTEREST AT WASHINGTON, N. C.

Washington, N. C., Oct. 23.—Washington has never witnessed a wedding of more surpassing beauty and brilliancy than that which took place at the Presbyterian church this evening at 9 o'clock, when Miss Winifred Wilson Fowle became the bride of Mr. Thomas Sparrow Long, of this city. In all of its appointments from the splendor to the simplicity of it, this wedding was one of the most beautiful and attractive ceremonies that has ever taken place in that sacred edifice, and in which was centered the interests of large hosts of friends and relatives. The interior of the stately old church was beautifully and artistically decorated in chrysanthemums, palms, ferns and other potted plants successfully carrying out a pretty color scheme of pink and white. Previous to the entry of the bridal party a very attractive musical programme was rendered by Mr. and Mrs. R. A. G. Barnes, organ and violin. Then Mr. James L. Fowle, a brother of the bride, in a rich tenor voice, sang "Because," by D'Hardiot. The following guests of honor then entered, viz: Misses Bessie Payne, Mary Fowle, Mary Bonner, Margaret and Annie Jarvis, Mattie Wiswall, Mary Elizabeth Thomas, Mary Lillian Ellsworth; Mesdames L. H. Mann, N. L. Simmons and H. B. Searight. The little ribbon girls, Seignora Jennette, Martha MacLean, Jessie Brown and Eliza Grimes, daintily attired in white lingerie dresses with pink ribbons, formed a chain of ribbons leading up from the door, while the organ pealed forth Mendelssohn's Wedding March under the deft touch of Mrs. Barnes. Next came the ushers, W. B. Rodman, Jr., McGilvary Orr, N. L. Simmons and H. C. Carter, Jr. Following them were the bridesmaids, Misses Annie Payne and Caddie Fowle, gowned in white charmeuse and carrying pink chrysanthemums. Next entered the groomsmen, Messrs. Robert Payne Fowle and Lindsay C. Warren. The dame of honor, Mrs. W. H. Ellison, entered, wearing white satin and carrying pink chrysanthemums. She was followed by the maid of honor, Miss Ethel Fowle, gowned in a crystal net robe over pink charmeuse, and carrying bouquet of white chrysanthemums. Dainty little Helen Brown, flower girl, preceded the bride scattering roses in her pathway. The bride entered leaning on the arm of her father, Mr. Samuel R. Fowle. She was exquisitely attired in Duchess satin, embroidered in pearls, trimmed in real lace with court train. Her tulle veil was caught with orange blossoms and she carried a shower bouquet of lilies of the valley, Bride's roses and asparagus ferns. At the altar she was met by the groom and his best man, Mr. Samuel Long. Together they stood before the altar, while Rev. H. B. Searight performed the ceremony making them man and wife, during which the soft strains of Schubert's Serenade were wafted through the church. Then to the strains of Lohengrin the bridal party rapidly passed out of the church and taking automobiles drove to the home of the bride's parents where a reception was tendered them. Mrs. S. R. Fowle, mother of the bride, was handsomely attired in white chiffon over charmeuse, trimmed in pearls, and wearing Palma violets.

DR. RANKIN REPLIES.

States That Investigation Agent Was Carrying Out Instructions.

Dr. Chas. T. Nesbitt yesterday received a letter from Dr. W. S. Rankin, secretary of the North Carolina State Board of Health, in reply to a letter written by Dr. Nesbitt regarding the visit of Mr. Harry Herring, a representative of the State Board, who spent two days in the city this week for the purpose of checking up the local death rate.

Mr. Herring has instructions, Dr. Rankin stated, not to report to the local board of health in any city he visits, and in failing to do this in Wilmington he was carrying out these instructions. He is sent out merely for the purpose of gathering vital statistics without regard to any that the local health department may have. These are used in checking up the returns made by the health boards to the State board.

While in the smaller towns it might easily be possible for deaths to be concealed, in a city the size of Wilmington such a thing could hardly happen for the reason that insurance companies are constantly seeking information about deceased persons. In the health department copies of all certificates of death as well as the stubs for the originals are on file for the inspection of any one who may care to do so. The original copy is sent to Raleigh to be used by the State health department in making up their record of vital statistics.

M'COMBS DUE NEXT WEEK.

Will Give Wilson His Answer Then As to Offer of French Post.

Washington, D. C., Oct. 21.—President Wilson hopes to have the French ambassadorship settled soon. William F. President Wilson and Mr. McCombs will discuss the matter; and it is probable Mr. McCombs will give a final decision.

Several times Mr. McCombs has accepted and declined the mission to Paris. President Wilson is anxious that this important post be filled, and he wants Mr. McCombs to take it.

Colon, Oct. 23.—An earthquake shock lasting about 15 seconds occurred here at eight minutes past nine o'clock this morning. Houses rocked and clocks stopped, but no serious damage was reported in this city. The tremor has been exceeded in intensity by only one other recent shock.

COTTOLENE
CONTAINS NO HOG FAT
USE 1/3 LESS

Here is what Marion Harland said in 1906 about

Cottolene

"Many years ago, I discontinued the use of lard in my kitchen and substituted for it, as an experiment, Cottolene, then comparatively a new product. Since my first trial of it I can truly say that it has given complete satisfaction. I honestly believe it to be the very best thing of its kind ever offered to the American housekeeper."

MARION HARLAND.

Cottolene makes biscuits that are tender when they are cold—that is a sure test of a good shortening. Try it yourself. Make the biscuits like this:

Won't you follow the example of famous cooks and make Cottolene THE fat for all your cooking?

Order a pail from your grocer; also send to us for the valuable FREE Cook Book, HOME HELPS.

BAKING POWDER BISCUITS

2 cups flour, 3 teaspoons baking powder, 1 teaspoon salt, 4 tablespoons Cottolene, 3-4 cup milk. Sift flour, salt and baking powder together; rub in Cottolene; mix lightly and quickly; mixture should not be dry; roll out on board, cut into small biscuits, bake ten to fifteen minutes in hot oven. To make biscuits richer, mix with cream. Whole wheat, graham or rye biscuit may be made in the same way.—Edith L. Clift.

COTTON MARKET UNSETTLED

December and January Contracts Made New High Records for the Season With December Cotton 14.05.

New York, Oct. 23.—Today's cotton market was nervous and unsettled.

December and January contracts made new high records for the season, with December cotton selling at 14.05, but offerings showed a tendency to increase on advances, while fluctuations were irregular enough to suggest that the trade was hesitating between the expectation of a reaction after the recent big advance, and a tendency toward a further reduction in crop views, owing to continued bad weather reports from the South. The market was steady, but several points off from the best, with prices net 4 points higher to 3 points lower, near months being relatively firm.

Reports of heavy rains in the Southwest and bullish Liverpool cables caused an opening advance of from 5 to 9 points, but the market met heavy realizing from the start and prices soon eased off. The official forecast for warmer weather in the Southwest, combined with the unsettled state of affairs in Bombay, and rather a less favorable view of the Mexican situation may have increased the disposition to take profits on long cotton, while there was also heavy selling by houses with foreign connections. Active months eased off to a net loss of 5 to 9 points during the middle of the morning, but after the close of Liverpool there seemed to be less selling pressure and the market turned firm toward midday on reports of heavy rains in Eastern and Central sections of the belt, rumors that the National Ginners' Association estimated the crop at 13,750,000 bales, excluding linters, on data collected before the frost, covering by early sellers and a renewal of bull support.

This advance carried prices about 9 to 16 points net higher, after which the market eased off 9 or 10 points from the best, under renewed realizing.

Spot, steady; middling uplands, 1,450; do. gulf, 14.75; sales, 800 bales.

Cotton futures closed steady.

WILSON VETOES.

Sends His First Negative Answer to Congress.

Washington, Oct. 23.—President Wilson today sent his first veto to Congress. He disapproved a joint resolution to reinstate Rudolph Unger, of Mansfield, Ohio, as a cadet at West Point. Unger, appointed by Representative Sharp, failed in examinations after a strenuous effort to succeed and his friends sought another chance for him.

"I regret to do this, but I deem it my duty," wrote the President. "I have the greatest sympathy and admiration for young men like Mr. Unger who seek in spite of difficulties to show their mettle; but upon careful inquiry I am convinced that he cannot, with his present preparation, advantageously continue his course at the West Point Military Academy and that his reinstatement would, in the circumstances, be subversive to the proper discipline of the Academy."

WILL REMOVE GUARDS.

Those Who Supported Recent Criticisms of Penitentiary Conditions.

Atlanta, Ga., Oct. 23.—Guards and employes at the Atlanta Federal penitentiary who supported Julian Hawthorne and Dr. W. J. Morton, in their criticisms of conditions at that institution, probably will be removed according to intimations contained in a statement today issued by William H. Moyer, warden of the prison.

Warden Moyer said that charges against the management were made by five or six disgruntled guards and employes who have been trying to break down the administration and destroy discipline to make vacancies for themselves and their friends.

William Schley Howard, representative in Congress from this district, late today said that in the event the Department of Justice fails to act on the charges of unfit conditions at the Atlanta prison, he would introduce in Congress a resolution asking that a committee be appointed to conduct a searching investigation. United States Senator Hoke Smith tonight refused to discuss the matter.

STOCKS MAKE GOOD SHOWING

New York, Oct. 23.—In spite of a severe break in stocks at the outset today, the market made a fairly good showing.

After declines of 1 to 2 points among the leading speculative shares, with an outpouring of offerings which threatened to upset the market badly, a better demand developed. The list moved off from the best figures in the late dealings, but the close was well above the low points for the day. Today's report of the idle car movement showed that there was a shortage of freight cars. Rates for both time and call money today were lowered. Improvement in investment conditions was indicated by the floating of several bond issues.

Despite these improving tendencies, the feeling of the trading element remained distinctly bearish. Much was made of discouraging reports from the steel trade. Steel was unloaded in a rapid succession of large blocks during the early trading, and its recession of nearly two points did much to force down the list as a whole.

London selling was a depressing influence. American stocks were marked down in London and the decline abroad was followed by the disposal of 15,000 or more shares here for foreign accounts. The intimation of Chairman Elliott, of the New Haven, that the dividend rate probably would be cut to 4 per cent., caused a slump of 3 points in that stock, to 82, a new low record. Subsequently, it made a partial recovery.

Bonds showed traces of speculative selling, under which most issues worked lower. The new Interborough Rapid Transit fives, which were put on the market at 98½, sold at 98. Total sales, par value, $1,585,000.

United States 2s, registered, advanced 108, and the 2s, coupon, and 4s, and Panama 2s, ½, on call. Total sales were 301,300, including: Amalgamated Copper, 31,500; American Tobacco, 500; A. C. COLUMBIA AS DEFENDER.

Will for Third Time Act as Trial Boat for Cup.

Bristol, R. I., Oct. 23.—The old cup defender Columbia, probably will be requisitioned for the third time as a trial boat for the America's cup defender or defenders next year and there is a possibility that Rear Commodore J. P. Morgan may be at her wheel.

The syndicate that will build the boat now being designed here to meet the fourth Lipton invasion in convinced of the necessity of a competitor in the trial races, even though such a boat should be considerably larger than the 1914 defender.

Mr. Morgan inherited the Columbia from his father, who headed the syndicate that built her. The elder Morgan turned the Columbia over as a trial boat for the Constitution in 1901 and so ably was she managed that the cup committee was forced to reject the Constitution in favor of the older boat.

will be taken up by the committee in connection with the President's concession that the number of proposed Federal reserve banks could be cut down from 12 to the number fixed in the bill without altering the basic principles of the administration measure.

Senator Bristow said he favored such a plan because he believed it would operate to prevent a concentration of credit and money.

Mr. Vanderlip said he had talked over his plan with a few bankers and that they favored it.

"Do you think bankers generally would accept it; would we have another Boston convention if we adopted it?" asked Senator Reed.

Bankers Shocked.

"I think bankers at first generally would be somewhat shocked by the idea of absolute government control," answered Mr. Vanderlip, "but I think when they understand the safeguards thrown about the appointment of the controlling board and the quality of men who would be named they would accept it with great favor. It eliminates the provision of the administration bill which would force banks to supply part of their funds to the National system, eliminates the objectional provision that would compel mutual re-discounting among Federal reserve banks and provides for the issue of true bank notes instead of government fiat money."

After Mr. Vanderlip had presented his plans, the committee heard Jacob S. Coxey, "general of the Army of Unemployed", which descended on the capital in 1893. He urged that the government take over the entire banking business, issue fiat money against bonds for all public improvements and generally eliminate banking operations on which interest is charged.

STORM IN LOUISIANA.

Nine Lives Lost—Thirty-Eight Persons Injured.

New Orleans, Oct. 23.—A white woman and her two-months-old babe and seven negroes lost their lives and 38 persons were injured, none seriously, in a tornado that swept over southern Louisiana early today.

Cane crops were razed, dwellings and fences demolished and other damage was visited upon plantations southwest of this city.

The hurricane swept over Energy Plantation, near Thibodoux, La., where Mrs. Valize Borne and her baby were killed together with two negroes. The negro quarters were demolished on this plantation resuling in injury to eleven negroes.

Cutting a clean path 500 feet wide the tornado lashed through the Ellington plantation at Lula, La., demolishing the negro quarters, killing five negroes and maiming several other persons, including a white woman and man.

The storm came shortly before day light, and the terrified negroes were caught in their shacks. Wire communication with several cities in southwestern Louisiana was cut off and it was late in the afternoon before the range of the storm and extent of the damage was known. It is believed the tornado spent itself in the Gulf after sweeping over southern Mississippi. Dispatches say the wind blew at the rate of 60 miles an hour at Gulfport

In New Orleans considerable damage was done to roofs, fences and swinging signs. One residence lost its entire front, while the family was huddled together in rear rooms. Many other dwellings, most of which were unoccupied, were considerably damaged.

Pensacola, Fla., Oct. 23.—Vessels making this port today report severe storms on the gulf for the past several days especially during last night. The three masted schooner Donna Christina, from Cuban ports, lost her mainsail and much of her rigging. So far no fatalities have been reported.

AT THE PIE COUNTER.

Patriots Who Are "Willing to Serve" and the Jobs Open.

(Special Star Telegram.)

Washington, D. C., Oct. 23.—Senator Overman, who returned to Washington today, said he expects to make recommendations for the district attorneyship and United States marshal for the western half of North Carolina early next week. It is pretty well understood that Charles A. Webb, of Asheville, will be made marshal and that W. C. Hammer will be given the district attorney's place. About the same time Senator Simmons will recommend Francis D. Winston, of Winston, for district attorney, and W. T. Norton, of Goldsboro, for marshal.

Manley McDowell, of Morganton, will be offered a Federal job paying $300 per month. He is a candidate for the marshalship. It is not believed that Mr. McDowell will accept any place except that of marshal.

Capt. Thomas Washington, U. S. N., of Goldsboro, probably would have been named as advocate general of the navy, had it not been for the fact that he hails from the same State as Secretary Daniels. Washington was the favorite among the naval officials, it is said, but the President thought it the part of wisdom not to name him for the reasons above stated.

L. Ames Brown, former Washington correspondent of the Raleigh News and Observer, now with the New York Sun, left Washington today for Old Point Comfort where Saturday he will sail with the United States fleet for a two months' tour of foreign ports. Brown is perhaps the youngest newspaper man in Washington to be given such an important assignment. He is a native of Greenville. P. R. A.

BALLOON CASE AGAIN.

Bladen County Man Will Have Opportunity to Sue Again.

Joseph Smith, of Bladen, who, as our readers will remember, was caught up and carried in the air by a balloon at the Cumberland County Fair last year, has been granted a new trial by the Supreme Court.

He sued the Society in Bladen Superior Court some months ago, and Judge C. C. Lyon threw the case out of court. Now the Supreme Court has reversed Judge Lyon's ruling, and Mr. Smith will be allowed to put his case before a jury.

FORTY-FOUR DROWNED.

Ship Runs Aground on Reef—Crew Perish.

Hernosand, Sweden, Oct. 23.—The steamer Westkursten, which yesterday left Vasa in the gulf of Bothnia in a gale, ran on a reef a few hours later and 44 persons were drowned. A lone survivor was picked up by the steamer Carl von Linne and tonight landed here. They succeeded in launching a boat, but the steamer sank in a few minutes and the boat was swamped.

Several of the crew clug to the rigging, but with one exception during the night all succumbed to cold and exposure.

BUSINESS HAS SUFFERED.

Slackness in Steel May be Expected to Continue.

Chicago, Oct. 23.—The steel business has suffered a slight recession and the slackness may be expected to continue for some time. Normal business, however, may be expected by Spring. This was indicated in the discussions at the regular monthly meeting today at Gary, Ind., of all the presidents of the subsidiary companies of the United States Steel Corporation.

The steel chiefs gathered to attend the meeting of the American Iron & Steel Institute tomorrow. E. H. Gary, chairman of the board of directors of the Steel Corporation, told of the proceedings at the presidents' meeting.

Mr. Gary carefully dictated his account of the meeting.

"The only topic taken up was the general state of business conditions and future prospects," he said. "Each president was asked for his opinion. The general view seemed to be that there had been some, though not great recession in busines and that this might be expected to continue for a short period. But this general opinion was given that in the early Spring, if not before, we probably would experience good and satisfactory volume of trade."

In response to queries Mr. Gary said rumors purporting to come from Washington that the Steel Corporation planned a wholesale shut-down to coerce the government in connection with the Sherman act suits, were "too foolish to be worth serious consideration."

TEXAS HAS ENGINE TROUBLE.

Largest Ship Afloat at Mercy of Steam Valve.

Rockland, Maine, Oct. 23.—Engine trouble today halted the standardization trials of the government's largest dreadnaught Texas.

The breaking of a valve stem on the forward low pressure cylinder was the cause of the trouble. It will take at least two days to make reairs.

So far as the tests today went they were declared satisfactory by officials of the board. The Texas went over the measured mile cousre three times each at ten, at twelve, at fifteen, seventeen and nineteen knots. She had just completed her first run at 21 knots when the accident happened.

Broken parts of the engine tonight were shipped to the Bath and Fore River Shipyards for repairs. Officials of the Newport News Shipbuilding Co., said the Texas probably would be ready to resume her trials next Sunday.

The Texas today is the most powerful ship afloat and though other ships under construction for the American and foreign navies will be superior in certain features as an "all-round sea fighter," as a member of the naval board declares, "she is likely to remain for several years at least with her sister ship, the New York, in the first line of the fleet, able to meet all comers on even terms.

The Texas is 11 feet longer than any battleship in our navy, being 575 feet over all. Her beam is 95 feet, 2 1-2 inches, which will give her almost 15 feet leeway in passing through the Panama canal locks. Her draft of 28 1-2 feet will enable her to enter at least four of the Atlantic navy yards and one on the Pacific coast.

It is expected, assuming that the present trial trip is successful that the new battleship will come in commission about Christmas time under command of Captain Albert W. Grant, who for several months past has been stationed at Newport News inspecting the vessel in her last stages of construction.

MR. WATSON IN RALEIGH.

Railroad Fare Much Cheaper Than it Was Years Ago.

(Wednesday's News and Observer.)

"Yes, railroad travel is a trifle cheaper than it was forty-six years ago, when I went to Wilmington from Salisbury and chose the former place as my home," said Mr. A. W. Watson, of Wilmington, last night.

"Then I paid $2.50 to get from Salisbury to Greensboro, $6.50 from Greensboro to Goldsboro, and $5.25 from Goldsboro to Wilmington, or a total of $14.25. I put those figures down in a memorandum book which I had at the time, and I have the book yet. The fare from Salisbury to Wilmington now is $4.75 or was last Summer when I made the trip last, and I suppose it is the same thing now. I calculate, therefore, that travel costs just about a third of what it cost right after the war."

"By the way, can you tell me where I can find Pat McGowan," Mr. Watson inquired. "He and I were old friends. I knew John S. Hampton, another veteran printer of Raleigh. He and I played together as boys in Salisbury.

"Yes, I have quit the printing business. In fact, I have quit it twice, but this time I have quit for good. I quit it in 1896 to go in another business, and after ten years in that line I decided that it also was a good thing to quit. Then I made my second entry into the vocation of a printer. In 1907 I gave it up again."

About this time Mr. McGowan came up and the two men, who had been cronies years ago, engaged in an animated conversation about old times. They worked together on the old Wilmington Journal and other papers.

Mr. Watson was on his way back to Wilmington after a business visit to Apex.

REJECT RECOMMENDATION.

The Virginia Public Health Association in semi-annual convention here today elected officers as follows:

President—Dr. Mosby G. Perrow, of Lynchburg.

Vice Presidents—Dr. B. B. Bagby, of West Point, and Dr. C. B. Boyer, of Stonega.

Secretary-treasurer — Dr. Lucien Lofton, of Emporia.

The next convention will be at the University of Virginia in April.

FRESH DEMANDS ON CHINA.

Russia Wants Recognition of Mongolia's Independence.

London, Oct. 23.—According to the Peking correspondent of the Daily Telegraph Russia has presented fresh demands that China immediately shall recognize the independence of and consent to Russia garrisoning outer Mongolia. China also is required to recognize Russia's right to construct a branch of the Manchurian railways between Aigun, Taitsikhar and Khailar.

his first wife's illness and her death.

It developed by Dr. Smith's testimony that naval records show Admiral Eaton to have been afflicted with a disease for which arsenic and other drugs sometimes are administered. It was Dr. Smith who secured Mrs. D. H. Ainsworth to nurse the Admiral's first wife, and he described her as "faithful and true to her charge." She later became Mrs. Eaton, and now is the defendant in the case.

Under a cross-examination by District Attorney Barker, Dr. Smith testified that the Admiral's first wife died of cerebral apoplexy, which might be a symptom of the disease for which the Admiral had been treated.

Rear Admiral Charles E. Clark, commander of the battleship Oregon on her famous voyage around the Horn, testified that as President of the Naval Examining and Retiring Board, he declined a request from Admiral Eaton for an assignment to a position on some naval board, because he had heard of his habits of intemperance.

Seemingly Intoxicated.

Lieutenant Holden C. Richardson, aviation instructor at Hammondsport, N. Y., testified that while junior watch officer of the battleship Massachusetts in 1903, he had seen Captain Joseph G. Eaton, then master of that vessel, in a condition of apparent intoxication. He told of one occasion when on the way to the Azores Captain Eaton appeared on the bridge dressed in pajamas and gave orders, which, if carried out, would have put the battleship in danger of collision with other vessels of the squadron.

At another time Captain Eaton, while seemingly intoxicated, held "mast," or court, on the batt'eship, and sentenced two seamen for drunkenness.

ESTABLISHED NEW RULE.

Presiding Bishop of Episcopal Church Will be Elected Hereafter.

New York, Oct. 23.—The House of Deputies of the Protestant Episcopal Church today established a rule that hereafter the presiding bishop of the Church shall be elected.

Under the custom now abandoned, the presiding bishop was selected automatically for his seniority in point of service. The new method will go into effect upon the death or resignation of the present presiding bishop, the Rt. Rev. Daniels Tuttle, of St. Louis.

The lower house adopted resolutions placing the Episcopal Church for the first time in its history within the Federal Council of the Churches of Christ, of America, and authorized the Church to co-operate with other missionary boards in directing the missionary spirit and activity of the Christian people. Both these movements were opposed in heated debate by clerical and lay delegates on the ground that they opened up the possibility that the Church would be led into complications with other churches and might seem to betray its postolic adherence.

Frederick C. Morehouse, a lay delegate from Milwaukee, introduced a resolution intended to authorize a commission to revise the list of saints in the Episcopal Church so as to include among others American personages who have been dead longer than a century. Mr. Morehouse made reference to Bishop Seabury, first bishop of the Church in America, and to a possible canonizing of George Washington.

The resolution was referred to the joint commission on revision of the Prayer Book.

The House of Deputies in executive session tonight confirmed the House of Bishops' appointment of Archdeacon John Poyntz Tyler, of the diocese of Cumberland, Md., as bishop of the missionary district of Northern Dakota.

The diocese and missionary districts of the Episcopal Church of America are to be grouped hereafter into eight provinces or synods, after the custom that prevails in the Church of England.

The House of Bishops today adopted the canon forwarded to it last week by the House of Deputies, creating the provinces. Each division will have its council or intermediate legislative body between the diocesan council and the general convention.

The House of Bishops discussed briefly tonight the suggestion that a bishopric for the negroes of the South be created, and will resume the subject tomorrow.

The House of Deputies yesterday voted to defer action in this matter until the next triennial convention.

ANALYZED EVENTS.

In Open Air Speech Sulzer Tells of Impeachment.

New York, Oct. 23.—Analyzing the events subsequent to his impeachment as Governor, William Sulzer, in an open air speech tonight to voters in the Sixth Assembly district, where he is the Progressive candidate for the Assembly, said:

"The appeal to the high court of public opinion from the packed court of impeachment is resulting in an overwhelming reversal of the Murphy verdict."

Sulzer said he had read that Charles F. Murphy "now bitterly repents his failure to order the high court of impeachment to disable me from holding office."

"The chief had grown so used to getting away with his jobs that he never dreamed he would be balked when he threw me out of the Governorship," continued Sulzer. "He is mortified to learn that while he had me lynched like a horse thief and the mob left me for dead, there still is breath enough in my body to fight corrupt bossism.

"Mr. Murphy now is talking about having me indicted on the evidence which Presiding Judge Cullen refused to consider. They do not dare to submit my case before a fair jury. If I could get a chance like that, I would nail it with delight."

Sulzer tonight attended a theatre before his automobile speech-making and was recognized as he sat in a box beside Mrs. Sulzer. The audience cried for a speech. At the end of the first act, after the curtain had descended it went up suddenly and the entire company faced the former Governor and applauded him. Sulzer made a brief speech, attacking Chas. F. Murphy. He received another demonstration in front of the theatre as he was leaving.

OLD SCHOONER A WRECK.

The Quiver, After 45 Years' Service on Chesapeake, Blown Ashore.

Baltimore, Md., Oct. 22.—The schooner Quiver, which has traded on the Chesapeake for 45 years now lies an abandoned wreck on the shores of St. Mary's river, where it was carried during the severe gale yesterday. The revenue cutter Apache in response to a request for assistance received through the Washington authorities, went to the vessel's aid, but efforts to float her proved unavailing.

DEPLORES WASTE OF LIFE.

Secretary Redfield of Department of Commerce Makes Address.

Grand Rapids, Mich., Oct. 23.—Deploring the waste of lives through lack of direction into work and lack of training for work, Secretary Redfield, of the Department of Commerce tonight before the National Society for the promotion of industrial Education, of which he is president, voiced a message of hope that the efforts of the society would bear fruit in constantly increasing education, fitting men for those vocations in life for which they are best suited.

The human pathos of the problem which faces them was what appealed to him—"the pitiful figure," he said, "of the boy or the girl faltering on the edge of the strenuous struggle of life, needing to earn yet not knowing how to earn and forced to enter the battle without the slightest training for the contest."

In talking of the cure for such a condition, he said: "Let me suggest that while we must not forget the great debt we owe to the private vocational schools, yet the future of industrial education lies in the hand of the public school. The private industrial schools have been the beacons which have lighted the course on which the Ship of State must sail. I do not venture to let my thought run freely into the social results of removing our misfits. This is a little too much of an industrial heaven for me to grasp at once. Yet I wonder if it may not be true of the work which we have undertaken that it has not entered into the heart of men to conceive the great things which are prepared for our people when industrial education and vocational guidance shall each have wrought their perfect work."

"Peace, precision and prosperity in our industries and happiness and hopes in our homes," he predicted, would be the result of correct industrial education.

URGE FEDERAL AID.

For State Mining Schools—Interesting Address."

Philadelphia, Oct. 23.—Federal aid for mining schools that are under State control was advocated at this afternoon's session of the mining congress by Representative Martin D. Foster, of Illinois, chairman of the committee on mines and mining in the National House of Representatives.

One of the interesting addresses of the day was delivered by Edward W. Parker, statistician of the United States Geological Survey, who said that the net profits in the coal mining business are not as large as generally believed.

Chicago, Oct. 23.—Roger Bresnahan, catcher for the Chicago National baseball team, will manage the Brooklyn Nationals next season, according to a report printed here today. Terms of the alleged deal were not made public.
